THREE COMMENCEMENTS CAP SUCCESSFUL ACADEMIC YEAR

St. Joseph's College held three commencement ceremonies at its two campuses in Brooklyn and Patchogue, New York, featuring outstanding guest speakers.

On Wednesday, June 6, J. Richardson Pratt, Jr., President, Treasurer and Trustee of Pratt Institute, addressed Arts and Sciences graduates on the Mall at the College's Main Campus in Brooklyn. Chairman of Pratt & Co., Inc. since 1971, and a member of numerous boards of [illegible]es in the educational, civic and [illegible]rate spheres, Mr. Pratt was awarded the honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws. The valedictorian for the event was Ellen McCarthy, a history major from the Brooklyn Heights section. The Most Reverend Francis J. Mugavero, Bishop of Brooklyn, distributed the diplomas.

Benjamin Ward, New York City's Police Commissioner, was invited to speak to graduates of St. Joseph's Division of General Studies on Thursday, June 7th, on the Mall. He, too, received an honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws.

The College's last commencement ceremony was held on Saturday, June 9, at its Suffolk Branch Campus in Patchogue, where Dr. Albert M. Ammerman, President Emeritus of Suffolk County Community College, presented an address to graduates from the College of Arts and Sciences and from the Division of General Studies. Dr. Ammerman was granted the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Humane Letters.

Mr. Shea, Dean Travis and S. George greet Commissioner Ward at General Studies commencement.

Summa grads, Patricia Ring, Diane Havriliak and Ellen McCarthy, with Sister George, Mr. Pratt, Bishop Mugavero and Mr. Shea. (Brooklyn)

Dr. Ammerman, Bishop McGann and Sister George congratulate Summa grads Joanmarie Koster and Estelle Hert (Patchogue)

Joyce Blangiardo, a graduate of the Division of General Studies, was the Salutatorian and Joanmarie Koster, a history major in the Division of Arts and Sciences, was the Valedictorian.

The Bishop of the Diocese of Roekville Centre, the Most Reverend John R. McGann, was an honored guest at the ceremony and conferred his blessings on the graduates, their families and friends.

CLARE ROSE SUPPORTS THEATRE PROJECT

Sister Virginia Therese Callahan, Vice President of the Suffolk Campus, recently announced at a press conference held in her office that Clare Rose, Inc. has pledged its support to the College's effort to establish a Repertory Theatre. This major contribution comes to St. Joseph's in response to a request by Sister Grace Edna Rowland, Instructor of Speech, who envisions a Repertory Theatre as an ideal vehicle for teaching theatre arts to her growing number of students and as a means of bringing the College more directly into the cultural life of its neighbors in the Nassau-Suffolk area.

The nature of the grant is noteworthy. Mr. Clare F. Rose, founder of the Patchogue-based beverage firm, will be honored by the Long Island Charities Foundation, Inc. at a gala dinner at which time he will receive the Foundation's 1984 Humanitarian Award. All proceeds from the event, donated in the name of Clare Rose, will be given to St. Joseph's College. The estimated gift toward the theatre project is approximately $30,000.

In recognition of his generosity, the College will name the theatre "The Clare Rose Playhouse."

Clare Rose, S. Grace Edna and S. Virginia examine future playhouse site.

S.J.C. GRADS CITED FOR TOP HONORS,AWARDS

Brooklyn Campus

The Bachelor's Degree, Summa Cum Laude, was awarded to Diane Havriliak, Ellen McCarthy, and Patricia Ring. They were also inducted into three prestigious honor societies.

It was also announced that Ellen McCarthy finished as a finalist in the American College Scholarship Competition and Patricia Ring received an assistantship in the Graduate School of Education at Fordham.

Among the Magna Cum Laude graduates, Terry Yard and Perry Pellechia were recognized for their outstanding accomplishments. Terry Yard was admitted to seven law schools, including Brooklyn Law School, with a merit scholarship, New York Law School, Boston College, Fordham U., Rutgers U., St. John's U., and SUNY at Buffalo.

Perry Pellechia received the prestigious 1984 Student Award of the American Institute of Chemists Inc. and was the recipient of an "Al Steyermark Scholarship" from the American Microchemical Society. He was also awarded fellowships in the chemistry departments of Georgetown, N.Y.U., Purdue, and the University of Utah.

In addition, Ursula Boruta received a fellowship for the Biomedical Sciences Doctoral Program at Wright State U. and Michael Forino gained admission to N.Y. College of Podiatric Medicine.

Patchogue Campus

The Bachelor's Degree, Summa Cum Laude, was awarded to Joanmarie Koster and Estelle Hert.

Ms. Koster was inducted into three honor societies and received acceptance into six law schools, including American U., Catholic U., Union U., Rutgers U., Syracuse U., and New England School of Law.

Other graduates who received much deserved recognition were John Baker, acceptance into five dental schools; Cindy Noble and Ellen Chamber, Gallaudet College Graduate Program in Education of the Deaf; Lynnmarie Kane, Reading Program Internship, Dowling; Lucretia Lucivero, Touro Law School; Holly O'Grady acceptance into seven law schools; Richard Panvini, N.Y. College of Podiatric Medicine; Maria Taliercio, Graduate Program in Experimental Psychology at Villinova; and John Sparling, acceptance into two law schools.

Trustees Annual Luncheon. George Walsh, (second left) President of Walsh, Rinehart and Puccio, Inc., is welcomed to the luncheon by trustees James McGann, S. Raymonda Dillon, S. Maria Frederick Stapleton and S. George. This year's function at the Brooklyn Club attracted 100 guests and raised $10,000 for the College's Scholarship Fund.

Brooklyn Undergraduate Awards

Kathy Darcy and Maria Wagner, U.S. Department of Energy Student Research Participation Program, Oak Ridge National Laboratory; and Ruthann Rizzi, Summer Scholarship for Research in Polymer Science, American Chemistry Society.

THE COLLEGE MOURNS A COLLEAGUE...A FRIEND

On Wednesday, June 13, the College lost one of its most loyal and dedicated members, Sister Mary Elizabeth O'Connor (S. Alma Virgo to many alumni and friends). She served St. Joseph's since 1955 as Treasurer and Chief Business Officer...and so much more.

For those who lived and worked with Sister, it was clear that her approach to death was as direct and courageous as her approach to life. No one could fail to be inspired by her grasp of what was and what was to be...her calm resignation and unflinching faith.

Her loss will be felt by many in a variety of ways. As a member of the Congregation of the Sisters of St. Joseph for over 52 years, she will be missed by her community as a beloved Religious. As a professional, she will be missed as a knowledgeable, competent colleague. As a compassionate friend...she will be missed by us all.

(Sister George Aquin's tribute read at the Mass of the Resurrection will appear in the Summer Alumnagram).

S. ANNE BEHRE RECEIVES DIOCESAN TRIBUTE

Sister Anne Behre, Ed. D., Assistant Professor in the Child Study Department, was presented recently with the "Ubi Caritas Deus Ibi" Award, the highest honor bestowed by Diocesan Catholic Charities. The ceremony took place at the Bishop's Annual Anniversary Dinner-Dance.

S. Anne Behre (center) is congratulated by S. Jean Marie, Chairman of the Child Study Dept., and Dr. Lenore Kelly, (Sociology Dept.).

In his letter announcing the award, Thomas A. DeStefano, Executive Director of Catholic Charities, Diocese of Brooklyn, cited Sister Anne's "leadership, devotion and concern for the growth of the church and the people of our Diocese."

Long renowned for her work with the deaf, Sister Anne Behre opened and supervised the first school for the deaf in Flushing in 1960, with a modest enrollment of four children. During her 21 years at St. Francis de Sales School for the Deaf, registration grew to 250 students, new facilities were opened in Brooklyn and State funding was awarded.

"We are truly fortunate to have Sister Anne on our Child Study faculty teaching those who aspire to a career in special education," said S. George Aquin, "and we congratulate her on this much deserved honor."

SILVER JUBILARIANS. Carolyn Hill Dalton, Marylou Fitzsimmons Gee and Anne O'Connor Gallagher celebrate their 25th Anniversary at SJC's Annual Alumni Luncheon held at Antun's. Fifty-six members of the Class of '59 joined a record number of alumni who enjoyed the Mass celebrated by Monsignor Charles E. Diviney and the delicious luncheon.

Among the especially honored guests were members of the class of 1934 who celebrated the Golden Anniversary of their graduation from St. Joseph's College.

Co-Chairwomen of the event were Clare Bauch and Betty Ann McDonough.

BASKETBALL TOURNEY MVP. Fred Ostrick poses with S. Virginia, who holds SJC's second place trophy. The tournament was held at the Patchogue Campus and was sponsored by Clare Rose Inc., with the cooperation and assistance of businessmen and civic leaders associated with the Chamber of Commerce.

DELTA INDUCTION. Recently, Mrs. Muriel Smith (second right) was inducted into SJC's prestigious Epsilon Chapter of the Delta Epsilon Sigma National Scholastic Honor Society.

Here, she is congratulated by S. George, husband Jim Smith, a trustee of SJC and Executive Vice President of the Bank of Long Island, and S. Virginia Therese. Mrs. Smith is a student at the Patchogue Campus.

Her outstanding academic achievements and well known civic and charitable work made her a worthy candidate.

ALUMNI PHONATHON. Volunteers at the Annual Alumni Phonathon kept phones ringing in hundreds of homes across the country as they picked up over $30,000 in pledges for the Annual Fund Drive.

Here, Millie Glassman (S'83), Dolores Twachtman (S '83), Susan Murtha (S '83), and Nancy Gilchriest (Bklyn '83) share a few laughs as they call their classmates.

This year's Alumni Fund Drive which ended June 30, raised a whopping $127,716.00. Almost $16,000 more than last year's effort.

The exhibit took place during the week of May 6th in the "245" building. More than 100 pieces of sculpture, ceramic, stained glass, sketches and batik art were on display.

ON CAMPUS INTERVIEWS. Business major Michael McDonnell analyzes material with Gina Betro, Director of Counseling and Testing, and a representative from the R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, during an on-campus interview.

Congratulations, also, to Mike who eclipsed the 1,500-pt. career mark this past season and is the highest scorer in the history of men's basketball at SJC.

COMMITTEE "GEARS UP" FOR FALL DINNER DANCE

As announced in the last issue of 245, St. Joseph's College will hold its Second Annual Dinner Dance on Friday evening, October 12, 1984, at Colonie Hill in Hauppauge, Long Island.

The College is proud to honor Mr. John J. Evans, Vice Chairman of the Board of Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company and a dedicated leader in the support of higher education throughout the Metropolitan Area.

On June 21, a Cocktail Reception was held at the Garden City Hotel to "kick off" this campaign which will benefit the College's Scholarship and Building Funds. Over one hundred committee members will put forth every effort to reach the $200,000 goal set by Dinner Dance General Chairman Herbert J. Brauer, Senior Vice President of Manufacturers Hanover Trust.

Last year, 650 people attended the tremendously successful "First." This year, the Committee hopes to reach a goal of 850 guests. All Alumni and friends of the College are invited to participate in this major effort and join the fun and festivities on October 12.

Honorary Co-Chairmen of the black tie event are The Most Reverend Francis J. Mugavero and The Most Reverend John R. McGann. Sister George Aquin serves as Honorary Vice Chairwoman with Robert C. Isban, Honorary Vice Chairman and a trustee of St. Joseph's. Mr. Isban is also Executive Vice President of MHT. Executive Co-Chairmen are trustee James J. Smith and John V.N. Klein, Esq.

Foundation's prestigious seminar at the Summit Hotel.

Students in Art 280...a design workshop class conducted by S. Pat Manning (Patchogue), copped all but one award in the Teacher's Federal Credit Union "Winning Spirit" Graphic Arts Contest, a tribute to our Olympic athletes.

S.J.C. Equestrian Team (Patchogue)... won 13 ribbons at the Intercollegiate Horseshow Competition sponsored by Adelphi, Hofstra and Fairleigh-Dickenson Universities. Rosemary Carroll, Diane Langan and Dawn Webber were outstanding.

Blood Drives...Both campuses held blood drives which attracted approximately 300 donors. At Patchogue, all blood contributions were offered for the Adrisani brothers, hemophiliacs from the Patchogue-Medford area. In Brooklyn, Brian Kieran spearheaded the drive for S. Betty O'Brien of the Business Office. Here, Brian is first on line to give the gift of life.

CHILD STUDY DEPARTMENT HOSTS RECEPTIONS

An integral aspect of the College's Child Study Program is the student-teaching experience required of every major. Each year, the Department recognizes the contribution of principals and cooperating teachers from the many private and public elementary schools throughout the Metropolitan area who service SJC's Child Study students. Receptions are held for them at both campuses.

The first reception in Patchogue was hosted by Sister Karen Kenney, Assistant Professor of Child Study and Coordinator of the Special Education Program. Over 300 guests attended and were greeted by administrators, faculty and students who also set up a variety of exhibits based on their field work. Children's essays, poems, drawings and posters decorated the 3rd floor lounge, providing a unique and cheerful backdrop for the party.

In Brooklyn, Sister Jean Marie Amore, Ed.D., Chairman of the Department, welcomed approximately 100 guests to the Dillon Child Study Center.

"We look forward to the opportunity of personally thanking the men and women who play such a positive role in the formation of our young teachers," said Sister Jean Marie. "Their experience, guidance and good example are invaluable to our students' learning process."

SPECIAL OLYMPICS

St. Joseph's College students have been very involved this past semester in volunteering their services in an effort to boost the campaign of the INTERNATIONAL GAMES FOR THE DISABLED in Nassau County this summer.

Under the leadership of the Suffolk County Coordinator, Terri Altmann, a recent Therapeutic Recreation graduate, "Project: Able Disabled" established a Suffolk County base for planning and organizing their involvement.

The Recreation and Child Study volunteers were successful in their various fund raising efforts and, as a result, were able to present their check from the college to the games.

G.S. GRADS LAUD COLLEGIATE EXPERIENCE

The Division of General Studies is the adult division of the College, which offers certificates and degrees in business/management and health. The Division enrollment on the Brooklyn Campus is over 600 students, most of whom are working professionals.

A special feature was added to this year's commencement in that the Division's first valedictory speech was delivered. Maureen Thomas, one of the distinguished graduates recognized by the Division for their achievements, delivered the speech. Ms. Thomas felt honored to be the first valedictorian and hoped to fully represent the thoughts of her fellow graduates. For her, balancing the responsibilities between her job, her family, and school was difficult, but she enjoyed the education process. She plans to attend graduate school and work towards an MBA.

Carroll Hinds, who was the top graduate in the class, felt that it was a great experience, although she procrastinated for ten years before returning to school. She said it was the warm and friendly environment of the College, which gave her support and guidance, that helped her. She believes that the programs are geared so that the adult population can achieve without loss of quality in education.

Anita Moore, another distinguished graduate, first came to St. Joseph's College because of the convenience of the off-campus extension sites. She believes that being taught by working professionals brings more real life situations to the classroom.

MS. WARD RETIRES; S. JOSEPH DAMIEN ON LEAVE

At the last faculty meeting of the academic year, Sister George Aquin announced that Margaret Ward, Professor of Physical Education, was retiring after 33 years at SJC. "She enjoys the affection and respect of today's students and yesterday's alumni and she takes with her the affection and respect of all of her collegues."

It was also learned that Sister Joseph Damien Hanlon, Professor of History and a member of the College faculty for 37 years, would be on leave for the 1984-85 year to teach at Stella Maris High School in Rockaway.

Sister George stated that it is impossible to summarize Sister's contribution to the College and to the students and that it will be absolutely impossible to replace her, as "no one person today will have the breadth of her interests or the depth of her knowledge."

S. MARGARET JENNINGS NAMED N.Y.U. VISITING SCHOLAR

Sister Margaret Jennings, Ph.D., Professor of English and Deparment Chairman, was advised that she has been selected as one of the Visiting Scholars for the Fall, 1984 seminar, "Medieval Culture: Love and Power in the Middle Ages." Sponsored by New York University's Institute for Cultural Analysis, the seminar will trace the themes of power and authority, devotional and courtly love as they develop and intertwine in the Middle Ages. Participants will examine historical, sociological, literary, philosophical and artistic expression of these themes.

S. Margaret Jennings

The seminar leader is Norman F. Cantor, Professor of History and Sociology and founder and Director of the Institute. As part of the seminar, Professor Cantor plans a major series of distinguished guest speakers including Sir Richard Southern of Oxford University, Gordon Leff of York University, and Karl Morrison of the University of Chicago. During the Fall of 1984, New York University also anticipates visits by Walter J. Ong and Sir Steven Runciman whose lectures will be open to the seminar participants.

Sister Margaret will have the opportunity either to work on her own research topics in the context of the seminar's themes and methodologies, or to explore new topics. She will be given assistance in finding new research subjects arising from the seminar and in developing new research designs. In addition, a grant-in-aid of $500 will be available to her for the purchase of books, slides and other research materials.

NETWORKING PROGRAM

St. Joseph's College will be a participant in New York University's Faculty Resources Network Program beginning this fall.

St. Joseph's was one of nine colleges chosen on a nationwide basis to participate in this program which will enable faculty to take part in research and curriculum development activities and to meet and work with their colleagues from other networking institutions.

Each semester at least five faculty from St. Joseph's will be designated as University Associates and will be granted course auditing and library privileges at N.Y.U.. In addition, all faculty at the nine colleges will receive regular invitations to attend the many public lectures, colloquia, and special events that are offered by N.Y.U..

Sister Elizabeth Hill, special assistant to the president, is the coordinator of the project for S.J.C..

S.J.C. CELEBRATES PRE-SCHOOL'S GOLDEN JUBILEE

On Sunday, October 28, the College celebrated the 50th Anniversary of its laboratory pre-school, long renowned as a pioneer in the field of early childhood education.

An integral part of the undergraduate Child Study program, the New York State registered laboratory pre-school provides a strong model for S.J.C. students preparing to be teachers, child psychologists or early childhood specialists. In addition, it is a service to public, private, city, state and national agencies which have visited, participated in, learned from, and imitated the College's model program.

The nursery school first opened its doors to 2½ to 5 year-olds in the College's main building at 245 Clinton Avenue, Brooklyn. Today, it is housed in the Dillon Child Study Center, a beautiful, modern, two story building on the Campus Mall which accommodates appoximately 100 children in three nursery classes and one kindergarten class.

Florence Kennedy addresses guests. On-stage are S. George, S. Jean Marie Amore (C.S. Chairperson) and S. Helen Kearney (Director of Dillon Center.)

S. Alice Francis displays photo collection in Center Library.

S. Margaret Louise receives special presentation from S. George for years of service in the pre-school.

An early intervention program for pre-schoolers with a language delay is also located at the Center.

Four hundred guests heard speaker Florence Kennedy, an S.J.C. alumna and Director in the Agency for Child Development, address the value of the Dillon Center setting. The program was also marked by a special presentation made to S. Margaret Louise Shea, Director of the pre-school program from 1942-1980.

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR TOP FRESHMEN

The Freshman Class (at both campuses) boasts a number of excellent students whose outstanding high school records qualified them for full-tuition scholarships.

This year's Board of Trustees Scholarships went to Patchogue freshmen Christopher Carroll and Anne Malone. Blanche A. Knauth Scholarships were awarded to Brooklyn students Sheila Judge (St. Saviour's), Grazyna Kozikowska (Cathedral), and Eileen Slavin (Bishop Ford).

In Patchogue, Presidential Scholarship recipients included Sandra Jaramillo, Beth Sue Partlow, Carol Wilson, and Thomas Wendt. Brooklyn Presidential Scholarships went to Eileen Donohue and Sara Luca (both from Bishop Kearney), Monica Goodwin (St. Saviour's), Mary Mozejko (Mary Louis), Janet Raimond (St. Edmund's), and John Snyder (St. Francis Prep).

Full-Tuition Medaille Scholarships and partial-tuition Scholastic Achievement Awards are also part of the College's merit scholarship program. Grants based on need complete the overall financial aid picture. Proceeds from the College's Annual Dinner Dances are applied toward scholarships and have allowed more gifted students to attend. NORMAN CANTOR LECTURES AT BROOKLYN CAMPUS

On Monday, November 18, the College Community was proud to welcome well-known medievalist Norman F. Cantor who spoke on "The Transformation of Medieval Christianity."

Author of the monumental Medieval History (and many other historical studies), Norman Cantor has had a distinguished academic career, first as a Rhodes Scholar, and later in Professorships at Princeton, Columbia, Brandeis and the State University of New York at Binghamton. After serving as Vice-Chancellor and Dean at the University of Illinois (Chicago Circle), he became, in 1978, Dean of Arts and Sciences at New York University where he presently directs the Center for Cultural Analysis and the Visiting Scholars Program.

Sister Margaret Jennings, Chairperson of S.J.C.'s English Department, is a participant in this program and was instrumental in obtaining Mr. Cantor for this special event.

Faculty and students from both campuses gathered in the Brooklyn Campus auditorium and were joined by large numbers of guests from the local community, neighboring high schools and colleges.

Vincent Marzullo, Director of Admissions

John Radulski prepares for Open House with student Sharane Sarju.

VINCENT MARZULLO NAMED DIRECTOR OF ADMISSIONS NEW, VIGOROUS RECRUITMENT EFFORT PLANNED

Sister George Aquin has announced the appointment of Vincent Marzullo as Director of Admissions at the College's Main Campus in Brooklyn. He joins the administration staff after a long search for a dynamic and creative director who would provide leadership and a focus for the College's recruitment effort.

Formerly a government affairs consultant, president of ATU Incorporated, Director of the Division of Employment Training in Essex County, New Jersey, and a candidate for the office of Governor of the State of Rhode Island, Mr. Marzullo brings a wide and varied professional background to his new duties. His educational credentials include a Bachelor's degree from Providence College and graduate studies at Harvard University, John F. Kennedy School of Government.

In an address at a recent faculty meeting, Mr. Marzullo outlined his program to increase the College's freshman enrollment figure by 25% in 1985.

"His enthusiasm and strong administrative abilities make this a realistic goal," said Sister George Aquin. "Mr. Marzullo has launched a vigorous recruitment plan...and although he has been with us a very short time, it is already showing very positive indications of success."

Joining Mr. Marzullo in the Admissions Office is John Radulski, who will assume the responsibilities of Admissions Representative. A graduate of Vassar College, Mr. Radulski pursued his graduate studies at Williams College. Much of his experience lies in the areas of art gallery administration and teaching...both of which allowed him to develop communication and organizational skills so vital in the recruitment and admissions process.

DRAMA PRODUCTIONS MARK FALL SEASON

Both Campuses mounted Fall dramatic productions which drew acclaim from appreciative audiences.

In Patchogue, the D'Ecclesiians presented D.L. Coburn's "The Gin Game" starring Dan Williams and Cindy Noble. The show was produced by students Jack Shoppmeyer, Mary Sue Whitehead, Carroll Gair and Joseph Doutney. Sister Grace Edna Rowland is director of the group.

In Brooklyn, Philip Barry's wise and witty Broadway hit comedy, "The Philadelphia Story" was the vehicle for The Chapel Players under the direction of Dr. Robert Radus. The play detailed a day in the life of a wealthy young divorcee from a prominent Philadelphia family and the four men in her life—her fiance, her ex-husband, her father and a new unexpected romantic involvement.

Carolyn Sorrentino puts finishing touch on Frank Cerasoli for "Philadelphia Story."

CLARE ROSE PLAYHOUSE UNDERWAY AT PATCHOGUE CAMPUS

Construction of the Clare Rose Playhouse at the College's Patchogue Campus has begun. Slated as a 199-seat off-Broadway style open space theatre, the new lake-side structure will function as a teaching area for the College's drama program and as a performance base for the dramatic group. In addition, local residents will be invited to participate in community theatre projects and children's theatre workshops.

The Playhouse represents a unique relationship between Clare Rose, founder of Clare Rose, Inc. of Patchogue, and the College. Mr. Rose designated St. Joseph's as the recipient of a $35,000 contribution resulting from the Long Island Charities Foundation Dinner Dance in June, at which he was honored. (This grant will be the primary funding vehicle for the theatre.)

Throughout the summer, Mr. Rose, Sister Grace Edna, Director of the College Drama Group, and a number of drama students have worked diligently to renovate an existing frame house which will serve as the new theatre's lobby, box office and dressing room area. The addition to this building will be the performance area.

"Mr. Rose's personal involvement, his willingness to work shoulder to shoulder with us, and his tremendous assistance with technical and structural recommendations have been a vital part of this project," said Sister Grace Edna. "And the wonderful rapport he has established with the students—his genuine warmth and kindness toward them have truly affected them. They see him as a role model and respond to his real dedication and sense of community."

Sister Grace hopes that the Clare Rose Playhouse will be completed for the spring production of the rousing musical comedy, "They're Playing Our Song."

Clare Rose (right) works with architect and construction crews as foundation for the playhouse is dug. Mr. Rose has also been instrumental in getting donated services and goods from local firms.

SECOND ANNUAL DINNER DANCE

Honoree John J. Evans with Bishop John R. McGann and Sister George Aquin.

General Chairman Herb Brauer welcomes guests and emcees the evening's events.

Executive Co-Chairmen John V.N. Klein and James J. Smith thank all those present for their support.

St. Joseph's College Second Annual Dinner Dance, held on October 12th at the Colonie Hill in Hauppauge, brought together over 700 friends of S.J.C. in a spirit of warm friendship and joyful enthusiasm.

John J. Evans, Vice Chairman of Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company, received the College's Distinguished Citizen Award. General Chairman of the event was Herbert J. Brauer, Senior Vice President at Manufacturers—Executive Co-Chairmen were Trustee James J. Smith, Executive Vice President of the Bank of Long Island, and John V.N. Klein.

The Dinner brought $212,275 in revenues and will net $126,234 for the College's scholarship and building funds.

The College extends its deepest appreciation to all those who worked so hard toward its success and is especially grateful to those who supported it by attending and by participating in the souvenir journal.

BITS 'N' PIECES

Open House Programs in Patchogue and Brooklyn welcomed a large number of enthusiastic guests to each campus in November. Administrators, department chairpersons, faculty, financial aid counselors and student leaders were on hand to introduce prospective students and their families to life at S.J.C.

Art Exhibits throughout the month of October and November brought many art lovers to the Patchogue Campus. Two notable exhibits were those of well-known Brooklyn artist Rudy DePaola and local Long Island artist John DeGuardi, a member of the Patchogue faculty. More displays are scheduled through the Spring Semester under the sponsorship of the Cultural Affairs Committee.

Sea Cliff Chamber Players have scheduled a second series of concerts in Patchogue: Nov. 18; Dec. 16; March 3; April 21. For ticket information, call (516) 654-3200.

A 3.1 Mile "Fun Run" at the Brooklyn Campus, Oct. 21, for the benefit of the American Cancer Society was sponsored by Union Beer Anheuser-Busch Inc., Manufacturers Hanover Trust, and Citibank. Students raised over $500 in donations.

Alumni Luncheon—250 Alumni gathered at Tavern-on-the-Green on Nov. 10th to enjoy a splendid day of reunion and good cheer at the Annual Fall Luncheon. Margaret Moylan Kelleher organized the event.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES ANNOUNCES ELECTION OF FOUR NEW MEMBERS

The Board of Trustees has announced the election of four prominent community leaders to its ranks. They are Burton Barnett, Senior Vice President of Securities Industry Automation (Subsidiary New York and American Stock Exchanges); Sister Ann McCarthy, C.S.J., Principal of Bishop Kearney High School; Maurice L. Reissman, President of CrossLand Savings Bank; and Benjamin Ward, New York City's Police Commissioner.

Formerly associated with Philco Corp., Burroughs Corp., Information Corp., and Advanced Decisions, Burton Barnett brings to the Board a rich and varied background in computer technology, management and consultation.

Sister Ann McCarthy heads one of the most academically acclaimed Catholic high schools in the New York area. She holds a doctorate from the University of Georgia and is former Associate Superintendent of Schools, Diocese of Brooklyn. In addition, she has acted as consultant and lecturer for a number of colleges and universities.

Burton Barnett

Sister Ann McCarthy, C.S.J.

Maurice L. Reissman, noted for his expertise in branch operations, data processing, marketing, and mortgage lending, will be invaluable to the Board in the areas of finance and planning. An active member of many professional and community groups, Mr. Reissman serves on the Council of Regents of St. Francis College, the Board of Trustees of Flowers with Care, and on the Boro Hall Restoration Foundation.

Benjamin Ward is the City's thirty-fourth Police Commissioner. He has served in a number of city agencies, including terms of office as Executive Director of the Civilian Complaint Review Board, Deputy Police Commissioner, Traffic Commissioner, Director of the Pretrial Services Agency, and Commissioner of the New York State Department of Correctional Services.

LIBERTY DAY SALUTE PLANNED FOR PATCHOGUE

Students of St. Joseph's College, Patchogue, under the guidance of S. Joan Ryan, Assistant Professor of History and Director of the College's Local History Center, have planned a rousing salute to the Lady in the Harbor - The Statue of Liberty.

A number of efforts, both individual and corporate, will culminate in a gala musical event to be held on campus, Sunday, April 28th. SJC hopes to raise $5,000 as its contribution to the restoration of Lady Liberty.

Since February, student volunteers have been organizing and implementing many events and activities, including: a collection of empty cans and bottles for deposit; cake sales; a candy sale; a raffle; a fund-raising dance-a-thon; distribution of an appeal letter to every member of the College community; an art and essay-writing contest sponsored by the Child Study Club and extended to all grade school children in Suffolk County (prizes to be awarded at the Salute on April 28th); a sale of Miss Liberty merchandise, such as pins, bumper stickers, etc.; a coed volleyball intermural elimination, with final competition played on April 28th; and the construction of a gigantic papier-mache Statue of Liberty by Child Study faculty member Marie Rella and students Sue Diviney and Fran Tusa.

CLARE ROSE PLAYHOUSE OPENS JUNE 2ND

For most of us, "a dream come true" is for other people...or if it does happen to us at all, it is rarely so predictable that we can give it a name, a date, or a place. However, for Sister Grace Edna Rowland, Assistant Professor of Speech Communication and Director of the Drama Club, her dream come true is so real that it has a name - The Clare Rose Playhouse - it has a date - June 2, 1985 - and it has a place-Lakeside at St. Joseph's College, Patchogue.

It is on that date and in that place that the Clare Rose Playhouse will officially open its doors as the College's beautiful, new Repertory Theatre.

Sister Grace has worked on that dream for over two years, studying various types of theatrical architecture, discussing technical lighting, sound and floor plans with designers, and evaluating a number of programs and productions which would serve both student and community needs.

When the planning was completed, all that remained was the funding. Clare Rose, a prominent Patchogue businessman, helped the College receive an initial grant of $35,000 from the Long Island Charities Foundation. Since that time, Mr. Rose and his colleagues in the Long Island business community have joined together to provide cash and contributed goods and services sufficient to complete the project. "Clare Rose put his heart and soul into this venture," said Sister Grace. "No one has worked harder or longer than he - that kind of dedication just doesn't carry a price tag."

So - on June 2, the College celebrates the opening of the Clare Rose Playhouse with a presentation of the Neil Simon comedy "They're Playing Our Song" and a gala reception and dedication ceremony.

Some dreams do come true!

S. Grace Edna and drama student Jack Schoppmeyer plan playhouse opening.

The Luncheon is sponsored by the Brooklyn Trustees Development Committee headed by James E. McCartney, President of Ridgewood Savings Bank, Fred W. McPhilliamy, Vice President, Brooklyn Union Gas Company, and John A. Brunetti, President, Caristo Construction Company. This year's effort brought $17,150 to the College's Scholarship Fund. . . an all time high. One hundred guest attended.

DRAMA THRIVES!

Drama is alive and well at SJC! Spring performances include "Agnes of God" by John Pielmeier which was presented at Patchogue in March under the direction of Brother Benilde Montgomery, Assistant Professor of English. Every performance was SRO.

"Applause", the Tony award-winning musical based on the Academy award-winning movie "All About Eve," will be presented by Chapel Players (in Brooklyn) from April 18 through April 21. This tale, sparked with wit, glamour and romance, is brought alive by Dr. Robert Radus, Professor of French and moderator of the drama club.

SJC HOSTS BECA WORKSHOP

On Thursday, March 28, St. Joseph's College hosted an Orientation Workshop at its Brooklyn Campus to launch "The Cultural Exploration Collaborative", a unique program developed by BECA (The Brooklyn Educational & Cultural Alliance) and funded by the office of the Brooklyn Borough President.

Through this effort, eight of BECA'S eleven member institutions have collaborated in developing a series of 25 programs which will be offered to ten day-care centers designated by the Agency for Child Development, City of New York. Each program focuses on a concept (color, nature, animal life, city living) and enables preschool children to "explore" the concept and then "express" their perceptions through related creative activities.

Sister Alice Francis, Associate Professor of Child Study at St. Joseph's, is serving as consultant evaluator to the pilot program which will run through July 1985.

"Each member institution has done an outstanding job of presenting its own area of expertise in a most creative and effective manner. . . appropriate to the youthful participant," said Sister Alice. "The Workshop allows day-care administrators the opportunity to meet representatives from each institution and to choose those programs which will best serve their youngsters."

Sister George Aquin opened the Workshop by welcoming Borough President Howard Golden and J. Richardson Pratt, Jr., President of Pratt Institute. Also, the opening session featured presentations by Sister Helen Kearney, Director of the College's Dillon Child Study Center, and Sister Patricia Dittmer, a member of the Dillon faculty, highlighting child development perspectives and expectations in planning field trips.

Sister George greets President Pratt and Borough President Golden.

Long Island's only post-season college basketball tournament, the Second Annual St. Joseph's College-Rotary Club of Patchogue Invitational, was held at the Patchogue Campus February 22 and 23. Featuring Polytechnical Institute of New York, Seton College of Yonkers and SJC's two squads representing Brooklyn and Patchogue, the tourney provided basketball fans with plenty of excitement - resulting in a Seton victory for the second straight year.

Congrats and thanks to our own coach Mulzoff and to our many friends in the Patchogue community.

Sister Irene Veronica Van Westering, SJC's Coordinator of Compliance Programs, will be the honoree at the student's Annual Awards Night Dinner Dance to be held on May 3, at LaMer in Brooklyn. Serving the College since 1950 (most of those years as Director of Admissions), Sister Irene's bright, cheery manner has won her the love and admiration of all at SJC. . . especially the men's basketball team which ranks her #1 in cheerleading.

"I have had many happy years here at the College," said Sister Irene, "and have made wonderful friends."

Mary T. McManus, a senior Child Study Special Education major, has been awarded the prestigious LaCorte Scholarship and, thereby, has also been inducted into the Brooklyn Hall of Fame. Applicants from all of Brooklyn's colleges and universities were carefully screened through a number of selection processes, including personal recommendations, a 500-word essay, and a final interview.

Mary plans to attend law school in the fall and eventually blend her Child Study background and legal training to pursue a career in education law. Mary will be a third generation alumna.

Both campuses of SJC are holding annual blood drives. Brooklyn, on April 1, and Patchogue, on April 29th. One hundred students, faculty and staff are expected to participate in the Red Cross effort in Brooklyn and almost 200 are scheduled to give the "gift of life" to Paul and Bill Andrisani. . . brothers living in the Patchogue-Medford Area who suffer from hemophelia.

Here, Mary Beth Radday, Mark Naccarelli and Mary Cashman recruit donors in the 245 building (Brooklyn). Mary has organized this year's drive.

On Tuesday, March 12, the Annual Alumni Phonothon was held at the New York Telephone facility in Garden City. Sixty volunteer "callers" and "clerks" joined forces to ring up a record $34,900 in pledges from 2,336 alumni called.

Here, Sister Joan Ryan (History Department-Patchogue) and Sister Mary Florence Burns, Academic Vice President and Dean of the Brooklyn Campus, represent one of many dynamic "teams" which helped make the evening an overwhelming success.

Special thanks to Clare Bauch and Mary Elizabeth Farrell who organized and implemented this complex event.

All pledges must be completed before June 30, 1985 - the end of the College's fiscal year.

S. Virginia Therese, V.P. of the Patchogue Campus and James J. Smith, a Trustee of the College and Senior V.P. of Norstar Bank, receive the first President's Medals ever presented by the Rotary Club of Patchogue. Jerome Sadofsky, President of the Rotary and Executive V.P. of the Patchogue Chamber of Commerce, happily presides. Mr. Sadofsky also serves on the College's Advisory Board and is a member of the business department faculty. This honor was bestowed upon Sister Virginia and Mr. Smith in recognition of the College's presence in the Patchogue Community as a source of academic, cultural and social enrichment.

C.S. Hosts Receptions For Grads, Teachers, Principals

The Child Study Department welcomed over sixty C.S. graduates to its Second Annual Reception in Patchogue on Sunday, March 24. Sister Jean Marie Amore, Ed.D., joined a number of faculty in making this reunion one to be long remembered.

"It is a pleasure to visit with our graduates," said Sister Jean Marie, ". . . and to give them the opportunity to meet with friends and colleagues and to share with us their professional experiences which have added to their growth as educators."

On Wednesday, April 24, the department will host a reception for principals and cooperating teachers in Nassau and Suffolk counties who service the Child Study majors in the student teaching aspect of their collegiate program. As part of the afternoon's events, the expected guests from public and private schools will be treated to a unique exhibit of various types of work done by the children in the classes in which SJC students teach. Sister Karen Kenney, Assistant Professor of C.S., will coordinate the festivities.

S. Karen Kenney enjoys chat with alumnae Denise McGrath and Kathleen Cestare.

A Brooklyn Campus reception is slated later this spring.

LIONS' FESTIVAL SET FOR PATCHOGUE

"If it's ethnic, it'll be there!" could be the motto of the Patchogue Lions Club International Festival which is scheduled for May 25, 26, and 27 (Memorial Day Weekend) at the SJC campus. The festival will feature food, dances and bands representing a variety of nations and cultures, children's rides, game booths, and numerous contests and awards.

Fireworks by the famed Grucci family guarantee spectacular evening entertainment. . . Saturday and Sunday, hours are from 3 p.m. to midnight - Monday noon to 6 p.m.

Dozens of St. Joseph's College students have volunteered to assist the Lions in many phases of this complex operation. . . publicity, ticket sales, parking, setting up the five tents which will dot the site, attending amusement rides and booths, babysitting, security, etc. Sister Virginia Therese is coordinating the College's effort and is working very closely with the Lions Committee to assure a happy and safe weekend for the thousands of anticipated guests.

Profits from the festival will go to a number of community service programs and charities. . . including SJC.

If you're in the neighborhood. . . drop in. If you're not in the neighborhood, drop in anyway. It will be worth the trip -from anywhere!

THREE COMMENCEMENTS CONCLUDE SUCCESSFUL YEAR

St. Joseph's College held three commencement ceremonies at its two campuses in Brooklyn and Patchogue.

On Wednesday, June 5th, Sister Elaine Roulet, C.S.J., addressed Arts and Sciences graduates in Brooklyn and received an honarary Doctor of Humane Letters Degree. Since 1972, Sister has been widely acclaimed for her work with female inmates and their children. . . establishing the Children's Center at Bedford Hills where inmate mothers and their children spend "quality time" together, and opening four Providence Houses.

Ruthann Rizzi, an honor student in chemistry, was the Valedictorian.

Earl G. Graves, nationally recognized authority on black business development, was invited to speak to graduates of the Division of General Studies on Thursday, June 6, at the Brooklyn Campus Mall. Mr. Graves is publisher of "Black Enterprise Magazine" and heads six major corporations around the country. The Doctor of Letters degree was presented to Mr. Graves in recognition of his accomplishments. Elisa Panariello was Valedictorian.

The last commencement ceremony was held on Saturday, June 8, in Patchogue, where Clare Rose, prominent businessman and community leader, addressed 275 graduates and received the prestigious Doctor of Laws degree. Founder of Clare Rose, Inc., and numerous other enterprises nationwide, Mr. Rose is well known for his interest in local projects which serve the needs of his neighbors on Long Island.

Salutatorian Cathleen McCabe, Mr. Rose, S. George and Valedictorian Maria Humphrey.

Board Chairman Frederick T. Shea and S. George Aquin welcome S. Elaine Roulet (center).

Mary Humphrey (Business major) was the Valedictorian; the Salutatorian was General Studies graduate Cathleen McCabe.

Dr. Thomas Travis, Dean of G.S. Div., S. George, Earl G. Graves, Valedictorian Elisa Panariello and Distinguished Graduate Patricia Watts.

COLLEGE MOURNS THE DEATH OF SISTER VIRGINIA THERESE CALLAHAN

On October 1, Sister Virginia Therese Callahan, C.S.J., Vice President and Dean of the Suffolk Campus, died at the Maria Regina Convent of the Sisters of St. Joseph in Brentwood after a long illness.

It would be impossible to adequately assess Sister Virginia's vital role in the growth and development of St. Joseph's College. Her leadership was felt at the Brooklyn Campus as well as in Suffolk. As a member of the Board of Trustees and of the President's Council, she was instrumental in spearheading many creative and innovative aspects of curricular and extra-curricular life at SJC. Her spirit and enthusiasm were pervasive and contagious. Everything was "do-able". The Patchogue Campus stands as a visible tribute to her faith and her talent.

Sister Virginia's affiliation with St. Joseph's extends back to 1947, when she joined the College's chemistry department. Later, as Director of Development, she was instrumental in the construction of the Dillon Child Study Center and McEntegart Hall. In 1967, she became Principal of the Mary Louis Academy, and in 1969, assumed that responsibility at the Academy of St. Joseph in Brentwood. In these roles, and also as a member of the General Council of the Sisters of St. Joseph, for a decade, Sister's exceptional qualities as administrator and educator became well known. continued on page 2

Sister Virginia Therese Callahan, C.S.J.

HOMILY GIVEN AT THE FUNERAL OF SISTER VIRGINA THERESE

Sacred Heart Chapel, Brentwood — October 5, 1985

In each of the three readings you have just heard, I find something speaking about the life and person of Sister Virginia Therese. Correspondingly, I find her enhancing the meaning of several lines in each selection.

The last lines of the section of the Book of Job read to us were these: "Whom I myself shall see; my own eyes, not another's shall behold him; and from my flesh I shall see God, my inmost being is consumed with longing". You could not come near Virginia and remain very long in her presence without feeling her strong faith in the living God. I am not thinking about the recitation of the Apostles' Creed with the full commitment of a Catholic mind, but of the reality that the Creed points to, of the living reality which is the source of all being. "My own eyes, not another's shall behold him. My inmost being is consumed with longing." These words speak eloquently of Virginia's mind and heart and personality.

In the second reading I find these words of St. Paul particularly verified in Virginia's life. "We know that while we dwell in the body, we are away from the Lord. . . We would much rather be away from the body and at home with the Lord. This being so, we make it our aim to please him whether we are with him or away from him." I confess that I admired and envied Sister Virginia's balanced faith, especially in recent years, when she was first stricken with cancer. She faced the threat of death with serene courage. She also was determined to remain on the job as long as the Lord would allow her. If she gave in to panic when cancer came, I did not perceive it. And if she spared herself at work after recovery, I saw no signs of it.

This ability to have the roots of her being in two worlds probably accounts for the fact that she was at the same time the most practical of realists and the most imaginative of idealists. My own personal preference is for idealism. The support of good friends who were my companions in ministry made up for my deficiencies in the practical world of management. From my special vantage point, her excellence in both areas was a matter of wonder and admiration. What a gift she brought to her Communities!!

When I asked some of the Sisters to perform a liturgical dance at my Golden Jubilee celebration I nearly fell off my chair when Virginia volunteered to be one of the group. When the day came, the dance was one of the highlights of a very joyful occasion. The stately Dean of St. Joseph's College might not have been the nimblest dancer there, but she was outstanding: she was the tallest. I shall never forget the happiness she brought to the occasion. It seemed strikingly appropriate to find in the refrain of the opening hymn of this Mass the line: "May our tears be turned into dancing."

John 17:25-26. . ."Just Father, the world has not known you, but I have known you; and these men have known that you sent me. To them I have revealed your name, and I will continue to reveal it so that your love for me may live in them, and I may live in them."

It is in the third reading that I find Virginia most fully expressed. My insight is borrowed from Father John Shea of Chicago, my favorite contemporary theologian. In writing of the mission of Jesus to bring his heavenly Father to mankind, John Shea asks the question: "What was it about Jesus that mediated the divine? Did he speak the words of God? Yes, but more. Did he do the deeds of God? Yes, but more. It was the very person of Jesus, his core self that made the divine accessible. Meeting Jesus meant more than exchanging words or sharing actions. When anyone really met Jesus, the encounter moved through words and actions to their secret source, two people personally present to one another."

More than most of us Virginia was able to be present to others with the core of her being. This gentle woman had allowed herself to encounter Jesus in a way that drew the very roots of her person to the life that Jesus shared with his father. And all of us were enriched by that. In the presence of Virginia you could be free without thinking about it. In the presence of Virginia I found it easy to be myself.

In my personal pantheon there are several people who were close to me in life and no longer walk the earth. I regard them as "imperishable" people whose lives were so vibrant that it is impossible for me to imagine them as being less than fully alive and happy. Among them are my own mother who lived to be a hearty ninety-one. Dorothy Day whose life touched mine when I was young, and Father Charles Boyd, a humble priest whom some of you may remember as I do, as a man who was always "with it". Virginia is now with them in the company of the most living.

Her gifts were exercised to the fullest as a member of a number of boards of trustees and advisors, including those of the St. Francis de Sales School for the Deaf, the Seminary of the Immaculate Conception, Brookhaven Memorial Hospital Medical Center, Catholic Charities, and, of course, St. Joseph's College, where she was also secretary to the Board.

Each one who knew Sister Virginia has been touched and enriched by her. Each will mourn her loss in a unique way.

Remembrances

I offer my deepest sympathy to you who are grieving here today, far more deeply than I can, because your lives were more completely and intimately bound to her than mine. I pray with you that her loving Father will give her whatever she needs now to dance with the perfect joy and freedom that her life presaged. May she come dancing to meet each of us as we are called into the fuller life with our Father.

Reflection after Communion - Sister John Raymond

"No gift is proper to a Deity
No fruit is worthy for such power to bless
If you have nothing, gather back your sigh
And with your hands held high
Lift up your emptiness."

These lines of Jessica Powers were favorite to Sister Virginia Therese - and those who knew her well can readily see why. For despite her many gifts of keen intellect - blessed with remarkable powers of analytic thinking - logic - synthesis and evaluation, her gifts of joy, delicate sensitivity, composure, willingness to risk, to dare, to dream, to envision and to make things happen, I truly believe Sister Virginia saw all these as gifts of God. Aware of her own emptiness, like Mary, Mother of God, she made her "Fiat" and was ready and open to God's wondrous ways. She readily acknowledged - that He who is mighty has done great things to me.

She loved life, lived it well and fully and, I believe, without scruple. She acted out of a deep commitment to the Lord and responded generously and capably to the needs of her chemistry students, to the call to administration at Mary Louis, the Academy of St. Joseph and St. Joseph's College in Patchogue, to the Congregation's election as Councillor for two terms, to the Boards of Trustees with which she shared her insights, and to all whom she met.

The last several times I visited her sick room in Maria Regina, I saw near her bed a copy of a book entitled Resurrection and knew her thoughts were on that reality. No longer was it time for planning on her yellow pad in her inimitable writing.

Shortly after her death, I opened the book to where she had a marker:

"True compassion", it said, "brings together love and justice so that caring for others demands a response to their need. This happens first in face-to-face relationships. It is never enough to love people in the abstract without loving the particular people whose lives intertwine with ours. . . Face-to-face compassion is a willingness to respond to the need of the person we see in front of us."

Sister Virginia Therese readily gave such a response, giving time and attention to the person she encountered at the moment. She had a magnificent gift of eliciting love, admiration, respect and loyalty and a very, very special talent for perceiving others' gifts and encouraging and fostering their development.

As was her custom to face directly whatever situation lay before her, after a valiant struggle to maintain health, she accepted the reality of her impending death, inspiring all who watched her weaken.

In the book previously cited, I found hand written lines from a dear friend who wrote the words of Juliana of Norwich —

"And to all this our courteous Lord answered, to give me comfort and patience:
Suddenly you will be taken out of all your pain, all your sickness, all your unrest and all your woe. And you will come up above and you will have me for your reward and you will be filled full of joy and bliss,
and you will never again have any kind of pain,
any kind of sickness, any kind of displeasure, but always joy without end.
Why then should it afflict you to endure for a while, since it is my will and to my glory."

On the feast of St. Therese, Sister Virginia Therese quietly breathed her last, surrounded by some of those whom she loved, and in the lines of the responsorial psalm of the day, I am sure she exclaimed, —

"In you, Lord, I have found my peace."

And being Sister Virginia Therese, I am sure that for her brothers Jack and Jerry, for her relatives and many friends, and for the Congregation which she loved dearly, she will continually ask of the Lord, —

"Dear God, fill them with your love and your peace."

Let's Have A Party!

On October 5, Colonie Hill in Hauppauge, New York, came alive with the sights and sounds of St. Joseph's College Third Annual Dinner Dance. Over 500 guests attended the black tie gala held for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund which is used to attract top students to both the Brooklyn and Patchogue campuses.

James J. Smith, a trustee of SJC and Marketing Director of WLIG-TV, Inc., was the honoree and the recipient of the College's prestigious Distinguished Citizen Award. Under the Chairmanship of Robert F. Duffy, Executive Vice President of Pacific Ventures, Inc. this year's event raised $156,415.

The evening was capped by an exciting raffle drawing for three exquisite prizes - a 1986 Cadillac Coupe de Ville - a full length racoon coat - and a beautiful wood carving. Tickets were $100 - with only 500 available for sale.

Instructor Andrew Taylor, CPA, discusses new accounting major with students.

ACCOUNTING MAJOR

Sister Mary Florence Burns, Academic Vice President, has announced that the New York State Education Department has registered a new accounting major for both the Brooklyn and Patchogue campuses. Upon graduation, students would receive a Bachelor of Science Degree and would be eligible to sit for the CPA exam.

St. Joseph's students will have a special advantage in this field of professional accounting, since their accounting program is strongly based in the liberal arts, thus providing them with the intellectual foundation necessary for the broader application of their technical skills.

"By integrating the technical requirements for accounting with the broader conceptual knowledge, we will graduate an educated professional, capable of meeting the challenge of business in today's society," said Sister Mary Florence.

The Admissions Offices at both campuses expect at least a 10% increase in applications as a result of this announcement.

SUMMER GRANTS

LENORE KELLY, Ph.D., Prof. of Sociology. Under the sponsorship of the American Academy of Advertising, Dr. Kelly was placed in the advertising firm of D'Arcy MacManus Masius for 8 weeks under a Visiting Professors' Program to further educators' knowledge of advertising and thus provide students with better training. She worked on the Air Force account, examining factors which influence the propensity of youth to join the military.

KEVIN WOODBURN. A Junior psychology major, Kevin received a grant from the Sloan Foundation for an 8-week program at the Institute of Public Policy Studies, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. Some of his courses covered ethics, industrial policy sex-based wage differentials and urban policies as they apply to minorities. Others stressed microeconomics and mathematics.

S. JEAN MARIE NAMED ACADEMIC DEAN FOR SUFFOLK

On July 1, Sister George Aquin announced that Sister Jean Marie Amore, C.S.J., Ed.D., had been appointed Academic Dean of the College's Suffolk Campus in Patchogue, N.Y.

A member of the College faculty since 1968, Sister served as Chairman of the Child Study Department (the largest in the College) for nine years at both St. Joseph's campuses in Brooklyn and Patchogue. As Academic Dean, she succeeds Sister Virginia Therese who acted as both Academic Dean and Vice President. The rapid growth of the campus (quadrupling its enrollment since it opened in 1979) made it necessary for the burdens of that post to be shared. Sister Virginia remained as Vice President and chief administrator until her death in October.

Sister Jean Marie earned her masters and doctoral degrees from Teachers College, Columbia University. Her numerous professional affiliations include The Catholic College Council for Teacher Preparation, The Reading Teachers Association, and The Association for the Supervision of Curriculum Development. She has served on virtually every college committee and is a much sought after lecturer and consultant in the fields of child development, early childhood and elementary education, and special education.

In September, Sister Elizabeth Hill, M.A., J.D., was named Executive Assistant to the President. In this capacity, she will assume the responsibility for administration of the non-academic areas of the Patchogue Campus. Sister has been serving as S. George's special assistant since 1980, and will continue her duties at the Brooklyn Campus as well.

Alumni Spend A Day In "The Time Machine"

"It was like old times - spending a day in class at St. Joseph's - with our favorite professors. . . discussing our favorite topics," smiled Susan Burke '68.

Together with Alumni Association President Clare Bauch, Susan was one of a committee of seven who helped organize "Alumni Day" at SJC on October 26. Held at the Brooklyn Campus, Alumni Day brought back three former faculty members (Rev. Msgr.Charles E. Diviney, P.A., S. Alice Francis Young, and S. Joseph Immaculate Schwartz) who joined 12 current faculty to present 16 classes in two sessions from 11 a.m. to 2:15 p.m. Some of the fascinating topics covered were "The Confessions of an Ex-Professor"; "Thomas Merton Revisited"; "Pros and Cons of Artificial Organs"; "Growing-Older Female in the U.S."; "Conquering Computer Anxiety - A Practical Approach"; and "Northern Ireland: Nationalism & Criminal Justice". . . to name a few.

The day began with a Mass for all Alumni ae living and deceased, at 10 a.m., followed by registration and the first lecture period. Luncheon was held in the auditorium at noon with the second lecture period beginning at 1:15.

S. Margaret Buckley, Associate Dean (Brooklyn), S. Elizabeth Hill, Executive Assistant to the President, and Eileen Mullen, Asst. to the Dean, G.S. Div., addressed the 175 attending alumni on the current status of the College and then hosted a reception where everyone spent a good bit of time reminiscing.

SJC PROVIDES EXCITING THEATRE

If you are not happy with Broadway-see what SJC has to offer!

The Clare Rose Playhouse provided lively theatre throughout the summer with productions of "Talley's Folly" and a return of "Agnes of God".

The fall season began with "The Best of Broadway", a cabaret show featuring a kaliedascope of Broadway tunes from standard to pop. Neil Simon's rib-tickling comedy "Barefoot in the Park" ran in October. In late November and December, performances of "The Fifth of July" precede the Children's Theatre presentations of "Dorothy and the Wizard of Oz" and "Pinnocchio". For Christmas, children will also have the opportunity of meeting Santa after the show.

New this season is a "Dinner and Theatre" package available through the cooperation of the beautiful Pine Grove Inn in East Patchogue. Dinner and theatre tickets are $23.50 per person. General Admission is $5.00 - students with I.D. and senior citizens, $3.50. Call the Playhouse at (516) 654-0199 for more information.

In Brooklyn, the Chapel Players' production of "Uncle Harry" by Thomas Job is scheduled for November 22, 23, and 24. Under the direction of Dr. Robert Radus, this thriller stars senior Dorothea Brady in the role of Lettie, Brian Rohan as Uncle Harry, Mary Jean Connolly as Hester, and Carolyn Sorrentino as Lucy.

THOMAS A. DOHERTY JOINS BOARD OF TRUSTEES

St. Joseph's College recently announced that Thomas A. Doherty, President and Chief Executive Officer of Norstar Bank of Long Island, has been elected to the College's Board of Trustees.

A graduate of Fordham University and New York University Graduate School of Business, Mr. Doherty has a long and successful banking background, holding executive positions with Chase Manhattan Bank, Franklin National Bank, and the Bank of Suffolk County before joining Norstar in 1982.

His community and civic activities span a wide range of interests and currently include service as President of the Suffolk County Council Boy Scouts of America, Director of the Long Island Association, Director of the Stony Brook Foundation, Trustee of Long Island Mid-Suffolk Businessmen's Action (LIMBA), Director of the American Cancer Society, Director and Treasurer of the Arthritis Foundation and member of the Long Island Regional Economic Development Council.

Thomas A. Doherty

Last year, he was Chairman of the Bishop's Appeal Banking Committee and Chairman of the 1985 Telicare Golf/-Tennis Classic. Many Charitable Organizations have honored him for his dedication and efforts on behalf of the Long Island Community - among them, B'Nai B'rith, Suffolk County Council Boy Scouts of America and the American Cancer Society.

"Mr. Doherty brings to the Board a wealth of experience which will be invaluable as we continue to expand and develop our two campuses," said Sister George Aquin O'Connor, President of SJC.

S. St. Francis Dilgen, C.S.J.

COLLEGE MOURNS

Sister St. Francis Dilgen, C.S.J., Professor of Chemistry and Chairman of the Physical Sciences Department, died recently.

A member of the Congregation of the Sisters of St. Joseph since 1943, Sister joined the faculty of St. Joseph's College in 1957. A summa cum laude graduate in chemistry from St. John's University, she was awarded a teaching fellowship at Fordham. The quality of Sister's teaching and her commitment to excellence inspired several generations of students at SJC and encouraged them to pursue outstanding careers in medicine and science.

In addition to her contributions in the academic sphere, Sister gave her time, talent, and energy to the service of others. She was a dedicated member of the Valois Guild for the Physically Handicapped, was active in the Nuclear Freeze group in her local community and organized St. Joseph's Peace and Justice Committee.

Contributions in her memory will be used to purchase laboratory equipment.

SCHOLARSHIPS HONOR POLICE, FIRE FIGHTERS

The College Scholarship Committee has announced the creation of a new full-tuition grant for the children of New York City Police Officers and Fire Fighters who have been killed in the line of duty. This new award - The Valor Award - will be offered to eligible students applying as full-time freshmen in the College's Division of Arts & Sciences at its main campus located in the Clinton Hill section of Brooklyn.

Applicants must meet the College's regular academic admissions requirements: 1) at least 800 combined SAT scores; and 2) at least 80% high school average.

According to the Committee, this award expresses admiration and respect for the brave men and women who have given their lives in the service of the people of New York. It is a small way of saying "thank you" to the Police and Fire Departments for all they do to protect and foster the quality of life in New York.

"In addition to the symbolic value of the award, it will be of great practical assistance to the families who suffered the tragic loss of a mother or father," stated Sister Mary Florence Burns, Academic Vice President and Chairman of the Committee.

Eligible applicants should contact the Admissions Office (718) 636-6800.

GRUMMAN SUPPORTS LOCAL HISTORY CENTER PROJECT

Sister Joan Ryan, Director of SJC's Local History Center in Patchogue, recently requested a grant to purchase microfilm crucial to her project related to a comprehensive history of Nassau and Suffolk Counties.

Here, Mr. Donald J. Sheehan, Ass't. to V.P. and Gen. Mgr. of the Grumman Corporation, presents Sister with a $5,000 grant for that project.

Long Island Invitational Basketball Tournament

EXCITING PLAY BY JIM MELLONE (B'klyn.) earned him a spot on the All-Tournament Team.

The Physical Education Center at the Patchogue Campus was the scene of the Third Annual Long Island Invitational Basketball Tournament, sponsored by the Patchogue Rotary International.

The "Small Four", St. Joseph's (Brooklyn), Southern Vermont College, Molloy College and St. Joseph's (Patchogue), didn't disappoint their audiences. The sparkling two-day tourney saw exciting and dramatic play as giants clashed and records tumbled. The Golden Eagles of SJC (Patchogue) took the championship with a 79-64 win over Molloy to cop the Mayor's Cup donated each year by the Village of Patchogue.

In the consolation game, Bob "The Wizard" Knapp of SJC (Brooklyn) set a single-game tournament scoring record of 59 points, leading the Bears to a 93-68 victory over Southern Vermont. He also set a two-day tournament scoring record with a total of 90 points. Jim McCormack (SJC-Patchogue) was voted the Tournament's Most Valuable Player.

At a post-tournament banquet, gifts were presented by the Tournament Committee to all participating athletes and coaches. In addition to athletic awards, Student-Athlete trophies were presented for academic achievement by Sister Jean Marie Amore, Academic Dean of the Patchogue Campus. SJC resipients were "All-Tournament" stars Jim Mellone (Brooklyn) and Captain Bill Reilly (Patchogue).

In addition, Coach Frank Mulzoff was presented with a plaque and numerous awards as he announced his retirement as coach of the Golden Eagles. 1986 saw them post an outstanding 18-6 record. . . the best of their brief five-year history.

Mayor Norman Lechtecker, Patchogue Village, presents the Mayor's Trophy to Bill Reilly, Captain of SJC's champion Golden Eagles. Legislator John J. Foley also congratulates Bill.

SJC CALLS. . . ALUMNI ANSWER!

On March 11, fifty-two alumni, faculty and administrators gathered at the New York Telephone facility in Garden City to contact over 3,000 grads and encourage them to participate in Alumni Fund '86. The response was heartwarming and overwhelming. $31,653 in pledges was received in a three-hour period.

"We are thrilled with the outcome," said Clare Bauch, Alumni President, "The enthusiasm and generosity of volunteers was infectious."

STUDENT LEADERS IN WHO'S WHO

The 1986 edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES will include the names of 29 students from St. Joseph's College who have been selected as national outstanding campus leaders. . . 22 from the Suffolk Campus - 7 from the Main Campus in Brooklyn.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

Students named this year from the Suffolk Campus - Harold Michael Bailey, Anne Marie Baione, Georgette Bancroft, Susan Brady, Diane F. Cheeseman, Stephan Colletti, Stacie Ann Davis, Ann Marie Dietzel, Donna M. Fiore, John Johnson, Laura LoManto, Keith Magliola, Christine A. Marco, Rita M. Lelichar, Sharon M. HERBERT J. BRAUER TO BE HONORED AT DINNER DANCE IV

Frederick T. Shea, Chairman of the Board, has announced that Herbert J. Brauer, Senior Vice President of Manufacturers Hanover Trust, has been named honoree of the College's Fourth Annual Dinner Dance to be held on Friday, September 26, at Colonie Hill in Hauppauge, N.Y. Elwin Larson, President and Chief Operating Officer of Brooklyn Union Gas Company, has agreed to serve as General Chairman.

A leading banker for over thirty years, Mr. Brauer is responsible for MHT's corporate bank business and commercial lending in Staten Island, Brooklyn and Queens, and in Nassau and Suffolk counties. His rapid rise at MHT brought him to the position of assistant vice president in 1966, vice president in 1969, and senior vice president in 1976. He attended New York University, the Stonier School of Banking at Rutgers and the American Institute of Banking.

Mr. Brauer is a Director of the American Heart Association (L.I. Chapter), a Trustee of the National Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation and is on the Executive Board of the Nassau County Council of the Boy Scouts. He is also a member of the New York State Senate Transportation Advisory Council and Sands Point Golf Club.

As an outstanding fund raiser for numerous charities throughout the New York area, Mr. Brauer has been the recipient of many honors and awards, including "Man-of-the-Year" Award from the Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation and the Freedom Award from the L.I. Committee for Soviet Jewry.

In 1984, Mr. Brauer served as Chairman of SJC's Dinner Dance and has continued his support on many levels.

SJC DRAMA CLUB AT BISHOP KEARNEY H.S.

Who says SJC doesn't have a "knack for networking"? One alumna has made her Freshman Honors English class a vital, vibrant learning experience - and has used the drama club at St. Joseph's College (Patchogue) to help obtain that goal.

Marie Mackey '84 (former U.A. president) is on the faculty of Bishop Kearney H.S. in Brooklyn. In preparing an innovative curriculum for her talented freshmen, Marie asked Sister Grace Edna Rowland, Director of the College's Clare Rose Playhouse and moderator of its drama club, to take her current production of "Vanities" on the road.

So. . . late one afternoon in March, the gym at Kearney was alive with theatre, as SJC students Laura LoManto and Claudia Gilman, together with alumna Cindy Noble presented a rousing performance to Marie's class, their friends, B.K. administrators and faculty. After the play, students had the opportunity to discuss the plot, characterization, and interpretations with the actresses and Sister Grace.

"I was thrilled to have this opportunity to bring this added dimension to my class," said Marie. "And, we welcome the opportunity to bring the College to a top high school," added Sister Grace.

THREE COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES HIGHLIGHT ACADEMIC YEAR

The first of St. Joseph's three commencements was held on Wednesday, June 4th, at the Brooklyn Campus and featured guest speaker Richard Reeves, well-known author, political analyst, and syndicated columnist, who received an honorary Doctor of Letters degree.

Jacqueline M. McMickens, Commissioner of New York City's Department of Corrections, addressed the graduates of the Division of General Studies on June 5th, and received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree in recognition of her many accomplishments. Commissioner McMickens achieved a number of "firsts" in New York City's history. She was the first Commissioner in the Department to rise through its uniformed ranks after starting as a correction officer; she was the first female director of a Correction Training Academy; the first woman responsible for security in an all-male jail; the first woman to command a hospital prison ward; and, as Chief of Operations, was the first woman to hold the top uniform rank in any city agency. In 1984, she succeeded Benjamin Ward as Commissioner of the Correction Department.

On Saturday, June 7th, the Suffolk Branch Campus in Patchogue held its graduation ceremony with John V.N. Klein as the principal speaker and recipient of an honorary Doctor of Laws degree. For eight years County Executive Suffolk County, Mr. Klein is currently the managing partner in the law firm of Suozzi, English and Klein.

BIO/PRE-MED MAJOR OFF TO "SPACE CAMP" GRANTED A SPOT IN NASA's SUMMER PROGRAM

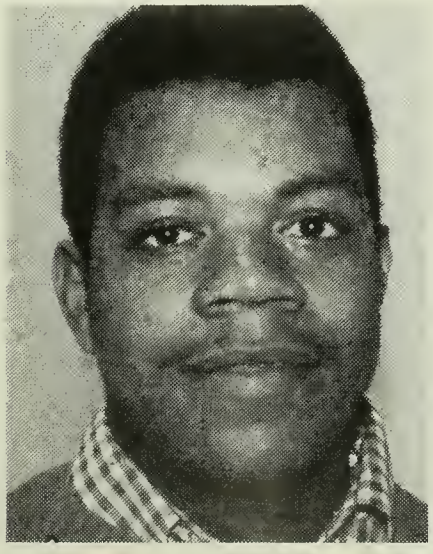
"I can't wait for summer - this one will be the most exciting of my life!"

If you sense a feeling of great expectations. . . you're right! This statement was made by Gregory Branch a junior biology pre-med student at St. Joseph's College in Brooklyn.

Gregory had just received word from NASA that he has been selected as one of thirty students from across America and its possessions to participate in the 1986 Space Life Sciences Training Program to be held at the Kennedy Space Center, from June 9th to July 18th. In addition, Gregg qualifies for a week of intensive training at the Alabama Space and Rocket Center in Huntsville from July 18th to July 26th.

"I can't believe I'll actually be working on experiments slated for a space flight." he continued. "And. . . we'll learn how to develop and conduct the test protocols, plan and execute a shuttle crew training session, assist in the design and testing of preflight and postflight procedures, and conduct ground tests of hardware and equipment and then analyze and evaluate postflight data."

Sound like too much to absorb in seven weeks? Not for Gregg. He came to St. Joe's on a full-tuition scholarship from Xaverian High School in Brooklyn. The challange of SJC's demanding pre-med program has established him as a solid student - he is on the Dean's List and has gained membership in two prestigious honor societies, Sigma Iota Chi and Delta Epsilon Sigma. His on-campus exploits don't stop there. He is the Undergraduate Association Treasurer and has served on eight clubs and committees, including the College Advisory Council, the Dance Club, the Chapel Players (dramatics), the Chorus Club, the Photography Club, Footprints (yearbook), the Folk Group and the Gaelic Society.



Gregory Branch. . . shoots for the stars.

In addition, Gregg is the first student to be featured in a series of new ads highlighting the achievements of SJC students and grads.

Off-campus, Gregg is very active in his parish and the St. Agnes Alumni Association Board. He also works 25 hours a week at Mercy Home for children in Brooklyn as Direct Care Counselor to mentally handicapped adolescents. His interest in the handicapped stems from his volunteer duties at St. Vincent's Mentally Handicapped Home when he was an SJC freshman.

"I have had every opportunity to grow and develop my interests here at St. Joseph's," said Gregory. "The size of our classes permit individual experimentation and a close working relationship with faculty and other students. It has been perfect for me."

Gregory is awaiting the results of his MCAT tests and plans to apply to a number of medical schools this fall.

"I hope I've done well enough to be accepted into a medical school for September '87. . . preferably one in New York State. I love New York."

Another expectation! Anyone care to bet against it?

Athletic Director Frank Mulzoff explains new team programs.

MULZOFF NAMED A.D.

Frank B. Mulzoff, SJC's former basketball coach, has been appointed Director of Athletics for the Suffolk Campus. The newly created position is in response to the rapid development of that campus and the increasing needs of its growing student population.

In additon to recreational and intramural programs, the College also expects to increase its participation in men's and women's intercollegiate athletics - adding men's and women's cross country, men's and women's tennis, men's soccer, women's softball, men's baseball and golf teams. Currently, St. Joseph's fields teams in women's volleyball, men's basketball and softball, as well as in equestrian competition.

In addition to Mr. Mulzoff's appointment, Jim Murphy has been named the basketball coach and Gary Smith, a true "soccer pioneer" in Suffolk County, has assumed the post of soccer coach.

DILLON CENTER PIONEERS MAINSTREAMING PROJECT PREPARES TRAINING TAPE FOR OTHER EDUCATORS

Last year, the Surdna Foundation granted a $25,000 award to Sister Helen Kearney and the College's Dillon Child Study Center for the production of a training film on the Center's program for mainstreaming developmentally delayed preschool children.

After months of planning and careful production, the thirty-three minute tape has been completed and is ready for distribution to other colleges and universities, libraries, clinical settings, developmental centers and parents' organizations. Sister Helen believes the program is a much needed tool in the "wholistic" education of handicapped children.

"Traditionally, a special child receives an education geared specifically to his or her disability," said Sister Helen. "This type of program provides very narrow experiences. We believe our approach to mainstreaming - dealing with the disability as only a part of the education process within a normal setting - helps children develop a sense of confidence and a realistic sense of themselves so that they can be functional people within the larger society."

The Dillon Center serves approximately 100 children - eight of whom are in the special program. This class has two full-time teachers and three part-time specialists - a speech therapist, a psychologist and a parent coordinator. This class spends part of its day with the regular kindergarten group in standard activities.

Clare Rose Playhouse Celebrates First Birthday

The Clare Rose Playhouse is fairly bursting with energy and enthusiasm - much of which is spilling over to its friends and neighbors in the Suffolk Community.

In early spring, the Playhouse held a benefit performance for Mercy Center, a residence for homeless girls ages 16-21. "The Rink" was the Playhouse's June production and played to sold-out audiences.

Scheduled for the remainder of the year are Neil Simon's rousing comedy, "Chapter Two", which will run July 24, 25, 26, 26, 27, 31, and August 1, 2, and 3; "Deja Revue", a cabaret show, slated for Sept. 27 and 28; "Storytelling Swap", on Oct. 3 and 4; "Night Mother", Nov. 7, 8. 9, 14, 15, and 16 (with a special Alumni matinee performance on Sunday, Nov. 9th at 3 p.m., preceded by brunch at the Pine Grove Inn); and the popular Children's Theatre to run the week of December 15th.

With all this activity, one would think the First Anniversary of the Playhouse might have slipped by unnoticed. Not so! To celebrate the healthy baby's first birthday (June 2), Sister Grace Edna Rowland, Director of the Playhouse, planned a dinner cruise aboard the Patchogue River's "Bay Mist". Over 100 guests enjoyed the four-hour cruise, a performance of "Deja Revue", and dancing to the music of a popular DJ.

The evening was so successful, it will probably become an annual event. Over $1,400 was raised for the Playhouse.

G.S. Seminars Popular With Health Professionals

In its ongoing programs to provide students with the best possible information on current trends in the health professions, the Division of General Studies hosts a number of seminars and assemblies featuring expert speakers and panelists throughout the academic year.

Recently, Victor Brown, Coordinator of the Health Administration Program at SJC, organized a spring seminar on "Coping with DRG's RUG's in Our Changing Health Care System". Panel member's included Lauris Jervier, Director of Medical Records at Kingsbrook Medical Center; Jean Leon, Assistant Director of Nursing, Quality Assurance, at Woodhull Medical Center; and Edna Barnett, Director of Nurses at the Jewish Home and Hospital for the Aged.

"Through these seminars, workshops, and trips to foreign lands, we hope to broaden the experience and backgrounds of our students," said Mr. Brown. "It is through the exchange of information that new methods of health care will be discovered and implemented".

Victor Brown welcomes panelists Lauris Jervier, Jean Leon, and Edna Barnett.

Two New Members For Board Of Trustees

The Board of Trustees has announced the election of two new members to its ranks - Sister Clara Santoro, C.S.J., General Superior of the Sisters of St. Joseph, and Herbert J. Brauer, Senior Vice President of Manufacturers Hanover Trust.

An outstanding teacher and administrator, Sister Clara received both her B.S. and M.S. degrees from St. John's University, and a Post Graduate Degree (P.D.) in Administration and Supervision from Fordham University. Her teaching career included experience at the elementary, junior high, and high school levels. Later, she was appointed principal of St. Angela Hall Academy and, then, principal of The Mary Louis Academy. This summer, she was elected General Superior of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Sister Clara has been an active member of many professional and religious organizations, among them: the Catholic School Administrators Association of New York State; the National Catholic Education Association; the National Association of Women Religious; the Intercommunity Center for Justice and Peace; the Leadership Conference of Women Religious; Education for Social Responsibility; and Clergy and Laity Concerned.

Sister is also a member of the Long Island Craftsmen's Guild, a membership earned by her accomplishments as a potter of liturgical and functional stoneware.

Sister Clara Santoro, C.S.J.

Herbert J. Brauer has been a leading banker for over thirty years and is responsible for MHT's corporate bank business and commercial lending in Staten Island, Brooklyn and Queens, and Nassau and Suffolk counties.

Over and above his acclaim in the business community, Mr. Brauer has achieved the status of "legend" for his work on behalf of numerous charities throughout the New York area - the American Heart Association, the National Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation, the Nassau County Boy Scouts, the American Red Cross, St. Francis Hospital, TeLIcare, the Mental Illness Foundation, Soviet Jewry, the Suffolk County PAL, and the Urban League. . . to name a "few".

In recognition of these outstanding efforts, SJC honored Mr.Brauer with its Distinguished Citizen Award at its Fourth Annual Dinner Dance.

Sister George Aquin O'Connor, C.S.J.

S. GEORGE RE-ELECTED

At the October meeting of the Board of Trustees, Sister George Aquin O'Connor, C.S.J., was re-elected President of St. Joseph's College. Sister George has served as President since 1969, when she succeeded Sister Vincent Therese Tuohy.

During her term of office, Sister George has provided outstanding leadership for St. Joseph's - establishing it as a co-ed college in 1970; opening a Suffolk Campus in 1971; creating the Division of General Studies in 1974; and purchasing Seton Hall High School as the new site for the Suffolk Campus in 1979.

The entire College Community congratulates Sister George on her past accomplishments and looks forward to rejoicing with her on many future successes.

"OPEN HOUSE" PROGRAM AT BOTH CAMPUSES

Recently both campuses of St. Joseph's College held Open House programs which drew hundreds of prospective students, parents, friends, and high school counselors.

Featured events included campus tours, visits with departmental chairmen and faculty, club presentations, demonstrations, and scholarship and financial aid advisement.

Representatives of the Admissions Office were on hand to provide registration information and facilitate individual and group interviews. Marion Salgado, Director of Admissions at Patchogue, and Roseanne Henry, coordinator of Special Programs at Brooklyn, agreed that most inquiries centered around careers in medicine, law, business, and teaching.

"Our new accounting major is certainly gaining attention", remarked Ms. Henry. "People are also recognizing the advantages of combining traditional liberal arts majors, like history, English, or languages, with a business component. It provides an added dimension to their professional abilities and enhances their career opportunities".

She added, "of course, everyone is concerned about finances - so, our generous financial aid packages were a welcome surprise to many. They couldn't believe that over 87% of our students receive some form of aid - making SJC very affordable.

NEW MASTHEAD

The new masthead on this publication now represents the addresses of SJC's two campuses - Brooklyn and Suffolk.

Alumni Day Renews The Spirit

It was obvious from the atmosphere, that Alumni Day at the Brooklyn Campus was a tremendous success. "Stimulating", "Terrific", "Wonderful", "Super" were some of the expletives heard as alumni left the classrooms.

During the summer, Claire T. Bauch '45, chairman of the event, asked faculty, both current and emeritus, for their help in putting together a schedule of morning and afternoon sessions. Fourteen members submitted topics, among which were, "Three Going on Nine", "Color Connections", The Richness and the Poverty of Love", "Theology of Death and Dying", and "Russian Icons: Windows on Heaven". Two of the courses were over-subscribed: Monsignor Charles E. Diviney's "Vatican II — Revisited" and Dr. Kevin Reilly's "Ancient Ireland: Its Prehistoric and Celtic Origins."

After registration, Father Richard W. Ferris celebrated Mass for all alumni ae, living and deceased. When the morning classroom session ended, the next hour was spent in the auditorium enjoying the buffet luncheon and renewing friendships.

Other faculty who so generously shared their time and knowledge were S. Anne Behre, Josephine Belloso, S. Margaret Buckley, S. Josephine Marie Cavanaugh, S. Mary Maier, Eileen Mullen, Stanley A. Nevins, S. Joseph Immaculate Schwartz, S. Margaret Louise Shea, and S. Mary Corde Tymann.

The afternoon included a taped presentation of the Dillon Center's special education program. . . with S. Helen Kearney, Director, and S. Alice Francis Young.

S. George ended the day with a preliminary report on the health and vitality of the college, reflected in plans for expansion of the Suffolk Campus and remodeling of the student-centered facilities at the Brooklyn campus.

A low-keyed, hard-working committee share credit for a smooth-running operation of this day: Susan Burke '68, Roseanne Henry '82, S. John Baptist Hull, Marie Lilly '34, Marie Mackey '84 and her "Kearney girls", Eileen Brophy Rossman '47 and S. Alice Francis Young '40. Mary Elizabeth Farrell '35

Alumnae view proposed plans for Brooklyn Campus renovations.

FACULTY SEMINAR

At a recent joint campus faculty seminar, Dr. Calvin Peters, Associate Professor of Sociology/Anthropology at the University of Rhode Island, discussed the design and implementation of study skills.

He was welcomed by S. Jean Marie Amore (Academic Dean, Patchogue), S. George Aquin, (President) and S. Mary Florence Burns (Academic Vice President and Dean).

GENERAL STUDIES TO OFFER B.S. IN NURSING

The Division of General Studies has announced that the New York State Board of Regents has authorized the College to offer an upper-division Bachelor of Science degree with a major in Nursing.

This new program, which will be available at both campuses, focuses upon the utilization of nursing theory; the promotion, restoration and maintenance of health for clients and groups; the development of critical thinking and decision-making skills; and the development of leadership skills appropriate to beginning professional practice. The research process as it relates to nursing will be taught and utilized throughout the program. Clinical experiences also will be provided at a wide variety of health care agencies under the direction of the nursing faculty.

Audrey Conley, Ed.D.

As with any new venture, expert, dynamic leadership is the key to success. SJC is fortunate to have recruited Audrey J. Conley as Director of the Program.

Dr. Conley holds a B.S. in Nursing and an M.S. in Nursing Education from Case Western Reserve University, and an Ed.D. degree in Educational Administration from Teachers College, Columbia University. Her professional background includes a wide range of experience as a professor, a dean, and a consultant. Some of her past collegiate affiliations include Rutgers State University, State University of New York, Downstate Medical Center and the University of Southern Maine.

In addition, Dr. Conley is an active member of the National League for Nursing, of the New York State Nurses' Association and the National Association of Women Deans, Administrators and Counselors.

On Friday, September 26th, St. Joseph's held its Fourth Annual Dinner Dance at the Colonie Hill in Hauppauge, Long Island.

At that gala, Herbert J. Brauer, Senior Vice President of Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company, received SJC's Distinguished Citizen Award in recognition of his outstanding efforts on behalf of numerous civic and charitable organizations throughout the New York Metropolitan area. Elwin S. Larson, President and Chief Executive Officer of Brooklyn Union Gas, served as General Chairman.

The Dinner, together with the souvenir journal, raised over $240,000 for the College's Building Fund - surpassing all previous dinner receipts. In addition, over $35,000 in gifts, prizes, and decorations were contributed.

All at SJC are most grateful to everyone who participated in this memorable and most successful evening.

Frank Fields and his orchestra added "bounce" to the evening.

BIOLOGY DEPT. OFFERS FIELD COURSE IN ECOLOGY ALUMNI INVITED TO PARTICPATE: TRIP TO JAMAICA

If you are ready to trade in your tennis racquet for a snorkel, do we have a course for you!

The Biology Department at the Brooklyn campus is offering a "Field Course in Ecology" to undergraduates and alumni interested in tropical ecology.

Classes will be held Wednesday evenings from 6pm to 8pm. Following the lecture portion of the course, a field experience in Jamaica, West Indies, is scheduled for May 22 to June 2, 1987. General principals of ecology and their application to a tropical setting will be explored.

Students will work in teams - eight hours at a time - with experiments carried forward twenty-four hours a day. Some groups will work in boats, others along the shorelines. Various tropical marine and terrestrial organisms will be studied under the direction of Dr. John Boynton, Assistant Professor of Biology. Assisting with the field experience will be Dr. Carol J. Hayes.

On the social side, students will have opportunities for sight-seeing, exploring and just plain relaxing on the sun-soaked private beach.

For more information on the course, tuition, and travel rates, contact Dr. Carol J. Hayes, Chairman, Biology Dept., St. Joseph's College, 245 Clinton Avenue, Brooklyn, NY 11205, (718) 636-6880.

Only 30 reservations will be accepted. Inquiry Deadline: December 15, 1986.

SJC Faculty Chosen for NYU Program

Dr. David Sepalla-Holtzman (Math Dept.) has been selected by the Board of Directors of the New York University Faculty Resources Network Program for the position of Scholar-In-Residence for the Spring 1987 semester. Each semester there are two Scholars-In-Residence selected on a competitive basis from the faculties of the nine colleges in the Faculty Resources Network Program. One of the advantages of the program is that the Scholars-In-Residence have the opportunity to build strong ties with colleagues in their respective fields that are expected to endure beyond the period of residency.

The Directors were so impressed with Dr. Stanley Nevins' (Phil. Dept.) application that they created a special award. He will be Scholar-At-Large for the Spring 1987 semester, with access to University resources, including library privileges.

SOCCER AT SJC

This fall, Gary Smith, a true "soccer pioneer" in Suffolk County soccer for the past 21 years, accepted the challenge to create a successful "class" soccer program at St. Joseph's College, Patchogue Campus. It now appears that Coach Smith and the inaugural SJC Golden Eagles soccer squad have successfully met that challenge. As we go to press, the fledgling booters have compiled a respectable record of two wins, five losses and one tie.

The enthusiasm that has been mounting at the Patchogue Campus overflowed with a great turnout for the newly introduced "family day" soccer game on Saturday, October 11th. Over 75 Golden Eagle soccer fans witnessed the defeat of visiting Molloy College with a score of 4-2 in the best offensive showing of the year.

Coach Smith was obviously pleased with the team's success. "We have played well in our first year," he said. "One of our stated goals was to be competitive, and we have achieved that."

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE TO HONOR ELWIN S. LARSON

St. Joseph's College announced that Elwin S. Larson, President and Chief Executive Officer of The Brooklyn Union Gas Company, will receive the College's Distinguished Citizen Award at its Fifth Annual Dinner Dance slated for Thursday, October 1, at the Crest Hollow Country Club in Woodbury, New York. Mr. Larson served as General Chairman of last year's successful event.

An active member of the regional corporate community and the local Brooklyn community, Mr. Larson is ranked among the leaders in the nation's fuel industry. He is a board member of BUG's four primary wholly-owned subsidiaries, is past Chairman of the American Gas Association Distribution and Development Committee, the Supplemental Natural Gas Committee, and the N.Y. Gas Group's Planning Committee. Currently, he chairs the Onsite Fuel Cell Users Group and is a member of A.G.S.'s Government Relations and Technology Committees.

Complementing his many industry-related accomplishments, Mr. Larson's efforts on behalf of worthy charities and community projects are laudable. He is a member of the Board of Directors of Pratt Institute, the Faith Home Foundation, the New York Fire Safety Foundation, Catholic Charities of the Diocese of Brooklyn, the YMCA of Greater New York and CrossLand Savings. In addition, he is Chairman of the Board of the Brooklyn Unit of the American Cancer Society and is a community Mayor of New York State. Recently, Mr. Larson has been Chairman of the Board of the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce and the Downtown Brooklyn Development Association and has served as President of the Municipal Club of Brooklyn and the Society of Gas Lighting.

Elwin S. Larson

The Fifth Annual Dinner Dance is a major effort to support SJC's Building Fund which will expand and update facitlites at both its Brooklyn Main Campus and Suffolk Branch Campus in Patchogue, New York.

"Mr. Larson has been a good friend and generous benefactor," said Sister George Aquin, President of SJC. "We are delighted to have this opportunity to thank him for his generous support."

Edward J. Donahue, a senior chemistry major, has received graduate scholarships and assistantships from two of the nation's most prestigious universities - The University of Notre Dame and Villanova University. Both awards lead to the Ph.D. in Chemistry.

A resident of Glendale, Queens, Ed attends the Main Campus in Brooklyn where he balances a demanding academic program with an active extra-curricular life, including the role of starting center on SJC's men's basketball varsity.

Last summer, Donahue enhanced his thesis research on computer modeling of chemical reactions by working in a special program with Professor Norman Peterson at Polytechnic Institute.

BROOKHAVEN TOWN, CATHOLIC TEACHERS ASSOCIATION CITE SISTER GEORGE AQUIN'S ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Sister George Aquin O'Connor, President of St. Joseph's, was one of ten women honored by the Town of Brookhaven Office of Women's Services at its first "Women's Recognition Night" held March 19, in the Town's Auditorium. The event coincided with National Women's History Month and recognized the accomplishments of outstanding women who either live or work in the Township.

Dr. Susan Kaye, a member of the Women's Service Advisory Board, read a citation noting,. . . "Sister George Aquin has been an educator for her entire professional life. . . has been a professor of sociology and anthropology, Chairperson of the Social Science Department, and, since 1969, President of the College."

During the program, New York State Assemblyman Robert Gaffney, (Acting) Suffolk County Executive Michael LoGrande, and Town Supervisor Henrietta Acampora each presented Sister George with awards and citations in recognition and appreciation for significant educational endeavors and contributions to the people of Suffolk, in the Town of Brookhaven.

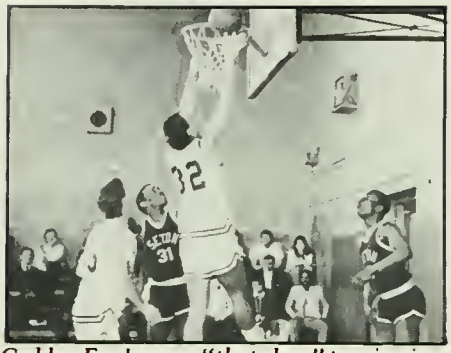
On Saturday, March 28, Sister was one of two honored at the Catholic Teachers Association of the Diocese of Brooklyn 65th Annual Communion Luncheon. The Rev. Msgr. John Woolsey of the New York Archdiocese was co-honoree. Chairperson of the event was SJC Alumna Bettyanne McDonough.



Golden Eagle came "that close" to winning the championship against rival Seton.

SJC HOSTS L.I. INVITATIONAL TOURNEY

For the fourth consecutive year, the Long Island Invitational Basketball Tournament, sponsored by the Patchogue Rotary International and local businessmen, was held at the Physical Education Center at the Patchogue Campus.

The Tourney of the "small four", St. Joseph's (Patchogue), Southern Vermont College (Bennington), Seton College (Yonkers), and Molloy College (Rockville Center), played before a large and enthusiastic crowd - both the attendance at Friday night's opening round and Saturday's championship game set records.

The championship and consolation game match-ups were established on the tournament's opening evening (Friday) with Seton defeating Molly College 89-57, while SJC Golden Eagles defeated Southern Vermont 91-68, thus setting the stage for a very dramatic confrontation between two former champions.

In competitive battle suitable for a championship game, Seton took the lead with a 64-60 win over SJC to secure the Mayor's Cup donated each year by the Village of Patchogue. "Both teams worked very hard and SJC has a good team", said Seton's coach Dennis O'Connell. "When you have a close game like this, there really isn't a team that wins or loses."

At a post game tournament banquet, SJC's Jim McCormack was given the Student Athlete Award, while Joe Fitt and Rocco Pascalli secured berths on the All Star Team.

DELTA INDUCTIONS

SJC's Epsilon Chapter of Delta Epsilon Sigma recently inducted new members in ceremonies at both campuses. This prestigious national honor society is for undergraduates, faculty and alumni of colleges and universities with a Catholic tradition. Eligibility is restricted to candidates who have evidenced dedication to intellectual activity, and who have accepted their responsibility of service to others.

The Brooklyn Campus induction ceremony was held on March 29, with three juniors, six alumnae, and one faculty member, Sister Helen Kearney, Director of the Dillon Child Study Center, receiving membership. Dr. Stanley Nevins, Professor of Philosophy, delivered the address.

The Suffolk campus ceremony was held on April 21. At that time, four juniors, nine seniors, five alumnae, and Sister Dorothy Watson, Administrative Librarian at Patchogue, were inducted.

The continued growth of SJC's Epsilon Chapter is a strong demonstration of the commitment to academic excellence which has been a tradition at St. Joseph's since 1916.

SCIENCE SEMINARS FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Sister Mary Maier (Chemistry Department, Brooklyn) thought that high school students would enjoy spending Saturdays in the College's labs and on directed field trips. From that idea came "Experiences in Scientific Research: A Complimentary Offering for High School Students," which the science department provided during the spring semester, at no cost to the students.

The original program consisted of two groups of three Saturday sessions, with a weekend off in between. Each session focused on a topic in chemistry, biology, or physics. However, when announcements were sent to area high schools, the response was so great that a third set of Saturday laboratory experiences had to be scheduled.

Twenty-two private and public high schools were represented, including Forest Hills H.S., Fontbonne Hall, Bishop Kearney and Jamaica H.S.

Assisting S. Mary Maier were Dr. Carol Hayes and Dr. Moira Royston of the Biology Dept. and S. Mary Corde Tymann of the Physics Dept. All hope the program will be a regular part of the College's contribution to the community.

SJC Offers Criminal Justice Certificate Program

The New York State Education Department has approved the College's Criminal Justice Certificate Program which will be offered at both campuses in Brooklyn and Patchogue, New York. The 24-credit program is open to any major at St. Joseph's College as well as to practitioners in the law enforcement field who are interested in returning to school for the certificate only.

According to Dr. William Bengston, an Associate Professor of Sociology with a specialty in criminology, "Students will receive both theoretical and practical exposure to the criminal justice system and will develop widely applicable skills in research designs, data analysis, and applied statistics. The combination of skills is a primary attraction to the program."

The faculty involved in the Criminal Justice Certificate Program are quick to point out, however, that the program is not intended as technical law enforcement training. "The courses stress the ability to think critically, to evaluate and to access research, policy, and their consequences. These are important skills that are currently being sought by employers throughout the criminal justice field as well as by law schools," explained Barbara Morell, Assistant Professor of Sociology and a graduate of the S.U.N.Y. Albany School of Criminal Justice.

"The certificate is of particular importance in contemporary times like ours," notes attorney David Hilgendorff, Assistant Professor of Political Sciences. "The certificate, in combination with a science degree, provides the student with both skills and an educational background that can translate into numerous occupations."

ST. JOSEPH'S EQUESTRIAN TEAM is young and building, but it has been competitive in the many shows in which it has participated - and, March 29, SJC co-sponsored an Equestrian Show at Good Shepherd Farm in Yaphank. Here, our top riders Lori Napp, and Ann Marie Carbonetto take a "time out" from practice with coach Sheila Rodgers.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR FRANK MULZOFF, (Patchogue Campus) is interviewed during a recent visit to the "Golden Eagles" basketball practice by Viacom Cablevision. This segment was shown when Coach Mulzoff was featured on Bill Chadwick's "Big Whistle" sports show on March 2nd. On April 6th, both Mr. Muzoff and basketball coach Jim Murphy were hotline guests on "The Big Whistle" with members of the team.

The reason for the TV time is the interest which has been generated in our athletic program in Patchogue. As new team sports have been introduced, an electrifying spirit of enthusiasm and unity has gained tremendous support for our athletes.

PHONATHON '87 On March 31st, 55 volunteers met in the cafeteria of the New York Telephone Building on Zeckendorf Boulevard in Garden City to use the thirty telephones which were made available for PHONATHON '87 through the generosity of the Telephone Company.

Our zealous callers reached 2752 of our alumni who had not yet given to Alumni Fund '87. Many alumni were delighted to receive this call and made pledges which totaled $38,961.

SJC CLARE ROSE PLAYHOUSE started an outstanding spring season on the Suffolk Campus as theatre goers enthusiastically applauded the "sold out" performances of the musical "Godspell", and the highly entertaining "Storytelling Festival". In addition, audiences were treated to Chamber Spring concerts featuring the internationally acclaimed Festival Chamber Players.

Completing the spring season schedule will be Neil Simon's comedy "Star Spangled Girl" and the musical hit "I Do! I Do!". Reserve seats early - both will certainly be box office sellouts. . . For performance dates and reservations call the Playhouse at (516) 654-0199.

"SILK STOCKINGS" - A LONG RUN FOR CHAPEL PLAYERS

Gregory Branch and Kimberly Lake rehearse roles.

"Silk Stockings," Cole Porter's sparkling musical spoof of Soviet officials corrupted by the magic of Paris, was presented by the Chapel Players of Saint Joseph's College, Brooklyn, in April.

Starring in this production were Gregory Branch and Kimberly Lake who, together with others in the 20-member cast, provided new choreography for the well-known musical routines.

"We are breaking new ground in several ways," said Dr. Robert Radus, Director of Chapel Players and Professor of French at SJC. "Our leading players were black students assuming roles usually performed by white actors and actresses . And. . . the involvement of our cast in the creative aspects of the production provided a refreshing vigor and enthusiasm."

STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN HARVARD U.N. SEMINAR

Twelve SJC History Club students, (Patchogue), together with S. Joan Ryan of the History Department, participated in the 32nd Annual Harvard Model United Nations Conference in Boston. Nearly 1300 students and their faculty advisors from colleges and universities throughout the U.S., Canada, Mexico, and overseas were involved in this simulation.

SJC students made up a delegation that represented Papua, New Guinea on the United Nations committees. The delegates and the committees they served are as follows:

General Assembly: Theresa DeMarinis - Legal Committee; Anthony Ward - Special Political Committee; Frank Fabrizio - International Civil Aviation Organization; Mike Pace and Al Mungo - Political and Security Committee; M. Sharon Hudock-Economic and Financial Committee; and Helene Kulczycki - Social Humanitarian and Cultural Committee.

Economic and Social Council: Kevin McCabe - Commission on Crime Prevention; Flora Hessling - Commission on Human Rights; Cirsten Connors - Commission on Population; and Jennifer Ray - World Health Organization.

S. Joan Ryan (right) welcomes Dr. Subhas and Dr. Ranglieri on visit to SJC to discuss problems of Papua.

WHO'S WHO

The 1987 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges will include the names of 30 outstanding students from SJC's two campuses. They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Inclusion is based on academic achievements, community service, leadership in extra-curricular activities, and potential for continued success.

Alumni Scholarships

On March 19, the Alumni Scholarship Committee held its annual meeting to consider a number of applications from sons, daughters, and relatives of alumni who either currently attend, or plan to attend, St. Joseph's College and who are in need, or who are deserving of recognition because of outstanding academic records. Each year, scholarship money is made available for use by the Committee from an allotment of 5% of the Alumni Fund, plus donations which have been restricted for this particular use.

This year, a total of $10,400 was disbursed - twelve grants were awarded to current students, fifteen to new applicants.

Many children and relatives of Alumni apply to the College because of their personal knowledge of the benefits of an SJC education. The College welcomes them warmly and enthusiastically and the Alumni Association encourages them to apply for available Alumni Scholarship funds.

BITS "N" PIECES. . .

GODSPELL CAST from Patchogue participated in "World Day of Prayer for Youth" on April 12th, at St. Joseph's in Brentwood. . . they presented the play production in the early afternoon and, later, led the singing for the Palm Sunday Liturgy.

SISTER JOAN RYAN (History Dept., Director of the Local History Center) has been awarded a Faculty Development Grant to prepare a slide presentation on the history of St. Joseph's College. Its purpose is to celebrate the College's 70th Anniversary; to highlight its unique contribution to the New York Metropolitan Area; and to enrich the course material of several local history offerings.

A BLOOD DRIVE for the Andrisani brothers, hemopheliacs who live in the Patchogue-Medford area, was held on April 1, for the seventh consecutive year. Over 100 donors rolled up their sleeves to give the "gift of life."

Mark S. Rose

TRUSTEE ELECTED

Frederick T. Shea, Chairman of the College's Board of Trustees, has announced the election of Mark S. Rose to the Board. Mr. Rose has been an active member of SJC's Suffolk Campus Advisory Board for over a year, giving leadership and promoting a number of projects, including the popular Clare Rose Playhouse, named in honor of his father.

A graduate of Siena College, Mr. Rose is Chairman of the Board of Clare Rose Inc. He also serves on the Board of Trustees at Siena and has served on the Boards of the Hewlett School and the Leway School. He is past-president of the Blue Point Lions Club and was Chairman of the South Brookhaven Heart Fund Dinner Dance.

A major business executive in Suffolk County, Mr. Rose is affiliated with Reliance Heating, Therm A Trol, Quickway Courier Service, Rose Spice, Inc., and Apple Sports, Inc. He has been honored for his charitable work by such organizations as Cooley's Anemia and Muscular Distrophy Foundations.

Alumna's Gift Tripled By EXXON

The Matching Gift Program is alive and well at St. Joseph's College!

For many years, major companies and organizations throughout the country have instituted matching gift programs both as a means of distributing their own corporate and foundation contributions to worthy charitable organizations. . . and as an incentive for employees to make private donations. Such gifts have always been a major source of income for the College's many scholarship, grant, and academic development programs.

During this year's Alumni Phonathon, SJC's "pledge board" received a major jolt when an alumna, who works for Exxon, pledged $5,000 for three consecutive years which will be triple matched by the corporate grant - resulting in a total gift of $60,000. The alumna, who wishes to remain anonymous, is working with John Roth, the College's Chief Business Officer, to determine how her contribution might best be utilized for the benefit of our students.

"This is a wonderful example of individual donors joining with the business community to provide much needed resources", noted Alumni Director, Mary Elizabeth Farrell. "We encourage our alumni and friends to determine if their donations are eligible for a match. If they are in doubt, we urge them to call their employer. . . or our office for information."

General Studies Registers New Programs

The Division of General Studies has instituted two exciting offerings - a B.S. degree program in Management of Human Resources and a certificate program in Leadership and Human Resources Development.

The new major is designed to promote career advancement and enables working adults to attain the credentials and skills essential for effective management.

The certificate program is a 12-credit, four course offering. While these certificates are available at the two campuses, SJC conducted on-site classes at Ridgewood Savings Bank and Flushing Savings Bank.

GOLF TOURNEY SUPPORTS ATHLETIC PROGRAMS

Dave Reese given tee-off time to John Rosman and Jesse Starr of Chase Manhattan Bank.

On Friday, July 10, approximately 80 enthusiastic golfers teed off at beautiful Rock Hill Country Club, Manorville, to launch St. Joseph's College Golden Eagles Booster Club's First Annual Golf Tournament.

Under the direction of co-chairpersons Dave Reese and Whitey Leavandosky, the tourney was filled with fun and excitement for everyone and was a highly successful fund-raising, friend-making event for SJC's athletic programs.

For $65, the golfer's day included greens fees, an electric cart, golf balls, a barbecue lunch, prizes, and a full dinner following a cocktail hour.

Athletic Director Frank Mulzoff was delighted that ". . . so many of our friends realize the importance of supporting our rapidly growing athletic program."

TRUSTEES LUNCHEON

This year's fund raising Trustees' Luncheon at the Brooklyn Club welcomed over 120 guests representing 54 companies.

WBAZ-FM & SJC CO-SPONSOR SCHOLARSHIPS

This baseball season holds special interest for fans throughout the New York area.

SJC has sponsored Mets broadcasts heard on WBAZ-FM since it began carrying the games last year. As a result of their amicable association, St. Joseph's and the Southold-based station are co-sponsoring a new scholarship program for listeners which may be applied to either the Brooklyn or Patchogue campuses. Regular scholarship criteria apply.

Heard "loud and clear" on the North and South forks (where WFAN radio sometimes fades) WBAZ-FM provides excellent advertising coverage to L.I. students and city-dwellers who try to beat the heat on the East End.

Clare Rose Playhouse Celebrates 2nd Anniversary

Once again, the St. Joseph's College Clare Rose Playhouse had a box office sellout as 115 people joined S. Grace Edna Rowland, Director, for the Playhouse's gala Second Anniversary Benefit Celebration. The evening was billed to be spectacular - and it was! While cruising the great South Bay aboard the Patchogue River's "Baymist", guests were treated to a lavish dinner, live entertainment, and dancing to the music of a popular D.J. Funds were raised to help finance future productions at the Playhouse which has quickly become an integral part of the local Long Island community.

S. Grace Edna and Clare Rose review new season's schedule.

Box office successes have been drawing sellout audiences since the curtain went up for the Spring season. "GODSPELL", the hit musical, may have to go into a second production next year to accommodate the many who were unable to get tickets the first time around! To get your personal fall lineup calendar, call or write S. Grace Edna at the Playhouse, (516) 758-6950, but remember - Reserve Early!

Baccalaureate Service

(Excerpts from an address by Gerald Cestare '86, Former president of U.A. (Suffolk County)

I was asked to speak about the ways in which SJC has challenged me to live out a value-oriented education. . . one thing I could single out that has made a difference is. . . one must never be afraid to take a risk. That challenge was made my first day here by S. Virginia Therese Callahan, the Dean at the time. She said that the College - and life - for that matter, would only be as exciting and fulfilling as I made it. She said to ask at least one question everyday - and listen closely to the answer. I did this, and I assure you that I will never forget this place or her.

I soon became involved in student government. . . my first risk. The next. . . realizing I will never please everyone. . . acting. . . and living through times when I really had to put my reputation on the line.

The latest risk. . . choosing between a lucrative job as an advertising representative at Newsday or as Director of Public Relations for Youth Focus, a relatively new organization which presented the opportunity of working with teenagers struggling with problems and choices of their own. I wanted to make a differnce-so-I chose Youth Focus. . . I have never been happier.

Whatever career you choose. . . you have the power to change things. . . be pleased with the work you do. . . the future truly is in your hands. The task ahead is to better the world we live in. Take the risk!

RECORD HIGH ENROLLMENT AT ST. JOSEPH'S

As the Fall Semester settles into its second month, St. Joseph's College has recorded another all-time high in student enrollment at its Suffolk Campus in Patchogue and in total enrollment at both its Brooklyn and Patchogue Campuses - now at 2,450.

Marion Salgado, Director of Admissions(Arts & Sciences, Patchogue), reports a 15.3% increase in freshmen and a 10% overall increase in entrants, including transfer students. The Division of General Studies' enrollment in Suffolk is 490, a dramatic 16% jump over Fall '86 figures... with new entrants up 43%. Total enrollment for both divisions there is 1,545 - up 9%.

According to Sister Jean Marie Amore, Academic Dean, a primary reason for the growth of the Patchogue Campus is the College's outstanding reputation for its strong academic programs - especially in the areas of child/study/ special education, business, accounting, the sciences, and therapeutic recreation. . . the only four-year degree program of its kind on Long Island.

New programs offering the B.S. in Nursing and the B.S. in Management of Human Resources have contributed to the expansion of the Division of General Studies. In addition, Dr. Thomas G. Travis, Dean of the Division, credits the development of off-campus sites, the registration of new certificate programs, and flexible scheduling as significant factors in this growth pattern.

With a tuition rate of $4,500 per year, St. Joseph's is the least costly of all private colleges in the New York area. Generous scholarship and financial aid packages are available through the Financial Aid Office... which, according to Financial Aid Director Carol Sullivan, accounts for the fact that almost 87% of SJC's students receive some form of financial assistance - federal, state, or college funded.

"We make every effort to make an SJC education affordable," said Mrs. Sullivan. "It is that effort and personal interest in our students which have resulted in our unprecedented growth."

S. Margaret Buckley Appointed Academic Dean

Sister Margaret Buckley, Ed. D., has been appointed Academic Dean of the Arts and Sciences Division, Brooklyn campus. Formerly Associate Academic Dean, Sister Margaret was responsible for the academic concerns of students and faculty, curriculum, faculty development and evaluation, and academic advisement. Among her accomplishments was the establishment of a Faculty Development Small Grants Program. As a member of the Education Department since 1969, Sister has taught and supervised student teachers in secondary schools, and from 1973 to 1987, she served as chairperson of the department.

Sister Margaret is an SJC alumna with advanced degrees from Columbia University and Teachers College.

GRUMMAN AND EATON CORP. AWARD GRANTS

Recently, Sharon Grosser, Manager of Community Support Programs for The Grumman Corporation, awarded a grant of $5,000 to the College for the purchase of a graphic design computer station for the Art Department in Patchogue. Another major contributor to the project is the Eaton Corporation.

Since the establishment of the Suffolk Campus in 1979, the student body has grown dramatically. Correspondingly, the Art Department has increased its offerings and its scope to try to keep pace with accelerated demands. (Now, more than twelve classes per semester are offered and are quickly filled to capacity. . . serving over 250 students per semester).

One area of demand by art students majoring in child study, business, and therapeutic recreation is graphic design where students require the use of a specialized computer and software for technical illustration, layouts, and typography in order to produce professional logos, newletters, publications, and brochures.

Sister Patricia Manning, Chairperson of the Art Department, is pleased that these grants will provide students with design skills for a variety of careers and professions, including graphic arts, teaching, business, science, public relations, advanced education, and communication.

S. Mary Florence Burns, Academic Vice President, receives grant from Sharon Grosser of the Grumman Corporation.

New Sites For General Studies

In order to make college courses more convenient for busy working adults, SJC has established off-campus extension sites throughout the New York and L.I. area. Thus, adults at over twenty hospitals and businesses are able to take courses towards certificates and degrees right where they work.

Certificate Programs in Gerontology, Home Care Administration, Health Instruction, Health Counseling, Health Staff Development, Leadership & Human Resources Development, Management, and Data & Information Processing are among the most popular offerings.

Most students then pursue a bachelor's degree by attending either of SJC's two campuses. There, degree programs are offered in the areas of Community Health, Health Administration, Nursing and Human Management Resources.

By providing working adults with an opportunity to pursue studies which will enhance their career potential, the Division of General Studies continues to grow. Presently, it serves over 1100 students - up a dramatic 11% over last year.

Each year, more sites are opened. . . the most recent are located at Booth Memorial Medical Center in Flushing, Astoria General Hospital, Long Island City, Brunswick Hospital Center in Amityville, and Franklin General Hospital in Valley Stream. Additional sites are planned for Manhattan and the Bronx.

Health care facilities, banks, insurance companies and other major corporations are suitable as new sites.

DIANE RAVITCH Speaks At SJC

Diane Ravitch, well-known author, lecturer, and teacher, appeared at St. Joseph's College Brooklyn Campus on Monday, November 9, and addressed "Our Schools and Our Culture", to an audience of mainly high school and college students and faculty.

An adjunct professor of History and Education at Teachers College, Columbia University, Dr. Ravitch is the author of What Do our 17 Year-Olds Know (with Chester E. Finn, Jr.); The Schools We Deserve; The Troubled Crusade: American Education, 1945-1980; The Revisionists Revised; and The Great School Wars: New York City, 1805-1973.

In addition, she has edited several books, including Against Mediocrity: The Humanities in America's High Schools (with Chester Finn, Jr. and Robert Fancher), and Challenges to the Humanities, with Chester Finn, Jr. and Holley Roberts. Her more than 150 articles and reviews in The New York Times, The Washington Post, The American Scholar, and The New Republic have established Dr. Ravitch one of the most widely read educators of our time.

Dr. Ravitch's expertise is appreciated "coast-to-coast". She is a former Guggenheim Fellow, an honorary life trustee of the N.Y. Public Library, and the principal co-writer of the California history-social science curriculum.

St. Joseph's College Fifth Annual Dinner Dance

The Dinner Dance was held on Thursday evening, October 1st, with over 500 quests attending. Elwin S. Larson, President and Chief Executive Officer of Brooklyn Union Gas, was the honoree - Monsignor Thomas J. Hartman, Director of TeLIcare, the Rockville Centre communications network, was General Chairman. This year's event was held at The Crest Hollow Country Club in Woodbury, and brought more than $210,000 into the College scholarship and building funds.

Sister George Aquin presents the College's Distinguished Citizen Award to El Larson. Other speakers on the evening's program - Monsignor Tom Hartman, M.C. Walter McDougal, Bishop John R. McGann, and Fredrick T. Shea, Chairman of the Board of Trustees - join in congratulating Mr. Larson. The beautiful backdrop (created by Bert Hevia of BUG) represents SJC's service to the New York area - from the Brooklyn Bridge to the Montauk Lighthouse.

Past honorees - former Trustee James J. Smith, Monsignor Edward L. Melton, and Herbert J. Brauer, Senior V.P. of Manufacturers Hanover and an SJC Trustee - join Mr. Larson near the "goat barometer." In the course of the evening, the $200,000 goat was exceeded as raffle sales soared.

Mr. & Mrs. Joseph Trombino hold their lucky raffle ticket which won for them a luxurious 1988 Lincoln Town Car.

PRESTIGIOUS SUMMER GRANT FOR BROOKLYN BIOLOGY MAJOR

An SJC senior biology major, Milagros Vidot, participated in a ten-week Medical Education Reinforcement and Enrichment Program at Tulane University Medical Center this summer. Among the sixty-four students chosen throughout the United States, Milagros was one of the five selected from New York State. The competition required that each applicant write an essay on the topic, "Why Do I Want To Go To Medical School." Letters of recommendation and a high grade point average were also required. Ms. Vidot, who knew that she wanted to be a doctor since the third grade, feels that the training she has received at St. Joseph's has prepared her well for this advanced summer workshop.

High on the agenda were courses in biology, physiology, math review, calculus, statistical analysis, physics, chemistry and analyzing data. In addition, seminars on current health related topics were held regularly and each evening, the students were required to complete computerized course reviews.

"Millie" decided to come to SJC after meeting Dr. Carol Hayes, Chairperson of the Biology Department, at an informal scholarship committee meeting - she realized that a smaller school would suit her needs. Last year, Milagros participated in the summer medical students' program at the University of California at Irvine.

Eileen Mullen Named Admissions Director

It has been announced that Eileen Mullen has been appointed Director of Admissions of the College's Division of Arts and Sciences at its Main Campus in Brooklyn.

Formerly Assistant Dean in the Division of General Studies, Ms. Mullen has taught, lectured and administered innovative educational programming at SJC since 1979. Among her most significant accomplishments are the establishment of nine off-campus sites for General Studies in hospitals and banks.

As Director of Admissions, she plans to introduce a series of new recruitment methods which will build upon the 5% increase in Fall '87 freshman enrollment. Among these is the implementation of the "net working" and "linkage" processes to disseminate information on the College, its programs, and its many successful graduates.

A graduate of St. Joseph's (with a Master's degree from Queens College) Ms. Mullen recently attended Harvard University's Summer Institute where she shared her creative and administrative skills with over 100 admissions professionals.

Model of the new library planned for the Suffolk Campus

NEW LIBRARY PLANNED FOR THE SUFFOLK CAMPUS

The Patchogue Campus is buzzing in anticipation of groundbreaking for the new library scheduled for Spring 1988. The well-known Long Island architectural firm of Bentel & Bentel has worked very closely with the entire college community - trustees, administrators, library personnel, faculty and students - to determine needs, evaluate options and create a number of plans which have been reviewed and refined.

Final touches are being applied to both the interior and exterior designs. The building will be located on what is presently the track, and a beautiful grassy mall with a seating capacity for 300 people will be created between the new facility and the existing college structure. Additional parking areas are planned to replace those which will be lost to construction, and lovely walkways will provide easy access to every part of the campus.

The interior features three levels which will be visible from the main body of the library. . . with half levels above and below the entrance and primary reading area. Conference rooms and classrooms are also planned.

The current library will be converted into much needed classrooms and offices. Up to this point, the space crunch caused by rapidly increasing enrollment was met by scheduling class hours earlier and later in the day.

Dr. Anne Jordheim Lectures on AIDS

Dr. Anne Jordheim, Chairperson of the General Studies Community Health Department, was invited recently by the University of Tromso in Norway to be a guest professor for two weeks. During her visit, Dr. Jordheim addressed primary physicians, medical associations, medical student groups, dentists and dental hygienists, nurses, and the university community in a series of workshops and lectures on the subject of the AIDS virus. An expert on the current status of AIDS research and development in the United States, Dr. Jordheim believes that she has "learned a lot from her students who have worked with AIDS patients." (Most students in the Community Health program in G.S. are health professionals.)

Historically a health-conscious society, Norwegians are concerned that flourishing international travel increases the AIDS threat. They believe they are two years behind the U.S. in proportionate numbers of AIDS patients and hope that an informed community will reduce the risk of repeating our experiences.

Dr. Jordheim's lectures were tailored to meet the needs of public health educators and workers.

Cooperative Admissions Program with SCC

Two separate degrees and two different college careers are the benefits that students can enjoy through Suffolk Community College's new joint admissions agreement with St. Joseph's College in Patchogue. By filing a single application to Suffolk Community, students may also be assured of admission to St. Joseph's upon their graduation from Suffolk.

Sr. George Aquin and Robert T. Kreiling, President of Suffolk Community College, recently signed the agreement which will take effect for students who began their studies at Suffolk in the Spring of 1987. According to President Kreiling, the agreement with St. Joseph's is an especially attractive one because it allows students such complementary collegiate experiences. He said, "Suffolk Community College is a large, public institution which enrolls students of all ages. Its contrast to St. Joseph's, a small, private college, should provide an exceptionally well-balanced education for students who take advantage of this new joint admissions agreement."

Students may apply to St. Joseph's through the Suffolk Community College admissions office at the same time they apply to Suffolk or at any time during their first thirty credit hours there. Other benefits of the joint admissions agreement include eligibility for scholarships, priority registration and waiver of tuition deposit at SJC.

SJC Library Only Integrated Computerized System On L.I.

The word "research" - a bone chilling thought for most students - is greeted much more enthusiastically at St. Joseph's College these days.

Throughout the summer, Sister Dorothy Watson, Chief Librarian of the College's Suffolk Campus, and her staff worked diligently to complete the installation of LS/2000, a fully integrated computerized library system, the first college library system of its kind on Long Island.

A product of OCLC, which maintains an international data base, LS/2000 provides a state of the art facility which allows borrowers to draw upon the data contained in the college's collection of books, and audio-visual materials - in a matter of seconds. Four terminals will serve the almost 1600 students who returned to campus last week to find that "life in the library" will never be the same.

"This is great,"smiled Chris Carroll, Undergraduate Association President. "The menus and directions are clear and virtually error proof. You have immediate access to an author's works, or to a bibliography on a specific topic. You know if a book is available and where it's located. Even a partial name or sketchy topic is enough to open up a variety of options."

Martha Scheina, a scholarship student from Farmingville, loves the ability to work without the assistance of library staff. "You feel so independent and able to work in depth on your research. The more you search through data on the screen, the more possibilities you see for expanding your thesis and making it more interesting and informative."

Sister Dorothy and Reference Librarian Sister Agnes Meagher are delighted with other operational aspects of the new system. It is a more efficient and effective method of keeping inventory and establishing library records, thereby releasing staff from clerical chores and allowing them to perform more professional tasks. It reduces errors and inaccuracies and will assist in the selection and classification of 2500 books, magazines and other materials added annually to the college collection.

HIGHLIGHTING. . .

Dr. Regina Weiman, innovative member of the Psychology Department and a noted lecturer on L.I., is the "facilitator" of the Faith and Vision Group of St. Mary's Parish in East Islip -a parish community based on the early church. . . a self-contained unit caring for all human needs within a small geographic area. Made up of priests, nuns, and lay people, their "New Dynamics Vision of Church is the only group of its kind in the U.S.," said Dr. Weiman.

In addition, Dr. Weiman was the featured speaker at the L.I. Counselor's Annual Conference-her topic: "Developing A Positive Self Concept".

ALUMNI DAY

A sense of déjà vu overcame more than 120 alumni who gathered at the Brooklyn Campus and "took classes" with revered professors, met old friends in the remodeled cafeteria, and revisited favorite campus spots. Here, Msgr. Diviney discusses a fine point of moral theology.

Sister Mary Florence Elected President of BPL

Sister Mary Florence Burns, Ph.D., Academic Vice President, has been elected President of the Board of Trustees of the Brooklyn Public Library. First named to the Library's Board of Trustees in 1973 by Mayor John V. Lindsay, Sister Mary Florence has been an active member on a number of Board committees and served as Secretary of the Board from 1982 through 1984.

A graduate of St. Joseph's College, Sister Mary Florence holds advanced degrees from St. John's University and Columbia University. A noted medieval and Shakespearean scholar, Sister had been a prominent member of the English Department faculty at St. Joseph's when she assumed the post of academic dean in 1969. She continues to teach one course on Shakespeare at the Brooklyn Campus.

Today, as it celebrates its 90th anniversary, the Brooklyn Public Library system boasts the central library, with a collection of one million books, the specialized Business Library, and 58 branch libraries, all with a children's room or area. Over a half million registered borrowers in 1986-87 drew on the library collection for a total circulation of over 8.6 million books.

Sister Mary Florence Burns, C.S.J.

The Board of Trustees of the Library consists of 20 members appointed by the Mayor of the City of New York.

CALDER GRANT

The Louis Calder Foundation has awarded the College a grant of $25,000 for programs at the Brooklyn Campus. This support represents the largest grant from a major foundation in several years, and is indicative of the upswing of support St. Joseph's is experiencing from the philanthropic community.

According to Sister George Aquin, "This significant expression of support will serve as a catalyst for other fund-raising efforts."

The Calder Foundation was approached by Frederick T. Shea, Chairman of SJC's Board of Trustees. The foundation was established by the late Louis Calder, former president and director of Perkins-Goodwin Co.. Peter Calder, grandson of Louis, and Paul R. Brenner, are trustees of the foundation.

NEW PROGRAMS

This year, for the first time, the Brooklyn Campus offers the Human Relations baccalaureate program, which has been available on the Suffolk Campus since 1972. This interdisciplinary study of social and behavioral sciences combines Sociology, Anthropology, and Psychology. It assists students in integrating various aspects of human behavior and prepares graduates to serve within the area of human services, including social service agencies, business, government and education.

Another addition to SJC's curriculum is a certificate program in Criminology Criminal Justice, available on both campuses. Offering such courses as penology and criminology, this program will provide students both theoretical and practical exposure to the system and will develop skills in research design and data analysis.

Golden Eagles Cop Fifth Annual L.I. Tourney

The Golden Eagles of Patchogue are the winners of the Fifth Annual Long Island Invitational Basketball Tournament. St. Joe's hoopsters defeated Bard College 90-61 and Pratt Institute 69-61 to boost their record to 17-9—same as the last two seasons—and claim the right to the Mayor's Cup Trophy.

Team honors were given to Andre Murphy, recipient of the Most Valuable Player award; Jim McCormack, who received the Student Athlete Academic Achievement award for his performances on the court and in the classroom, and Scott McGuire and Joe Munzer, who were named to the tournament's All-Star team.

Athletic Director Frank Mulzoff presents Andre Murphy with the L.I. Tournament MVP Award.

Pinkerton Foundation Grant of $5,000 Funds Program for H.S. Scientists

"Experiences in Scientific Research," a free program for high school students, is being offered for the second year at SJC's Brooklyn campus. Instituted in an effort to stimulate young people's interest in careers in science and the health professions, the program this year is being underwritten in part by a $5,000 grant from The Pinkerton Foundation.

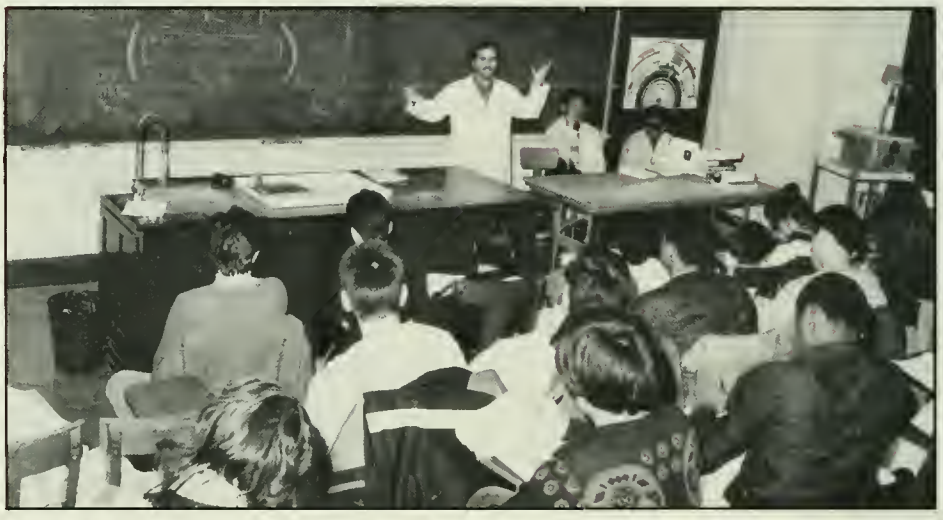
"There are students interested in science, but unaware of the variety of careers open in the sciences. In this program, we try to offer a cross-section from forensic science, to science education, to health-related careers in science," stated Sister Mary Maier, chairperson of the chemistry department and coordinator of the program.

In addition to group laboratory experiments, this year's program has expanded to include individual research projects involving creative research in the areas of laser optics, enzyme kinetics, photochemistry, and holography.

Twelve students are working on individual research projects, which Sister anticipates will be completed by mid-April. A symposium highlighting the students' work is scheduled for May. Some researchers have entered their projects in science fair competitions as well.

Last year's program enrolled 70 students from 25 high schools—this year, 130 students, representing 55 schools, are participating. The program, which is a concerted effort of all three science departments—biology, chemistry and physics—to encourage students to maintain their interest in the sciences and to enjoy the wonders and mysteries of our world, is obviously succeeding. Several students now in the program have already expressed their intentions of returning next year!

Sister Mary Maier watches as Brian Chetram and Qu Li Li, students at Seward Park High School, perform an experiment in caffeine extraction.



John Di Mare, '87 SJC, a graduate student at CUNY in chemistry, explains the research project in laser optics which Osmar Kusumo and Edwing Medina, students at Jamaica High School, are doing as part of the "Experiences in Scientific Research" program.

Fran Morrisey and Jean Lawrence, SJC students, discuss the Police Cadet Corps program with Deputy Inspector Michael Julian, N.Y.P.D., and S. Margaret Buckley, Academic Dean.

CADETS AT SJC

St. Joseph's College is participating in the recently established New York Police Cadet Corps Program. Students enroll for a two-year period, are paid a stipend, and have an opportunity for field work with a Community Patrol Officer.

The cadet must take the Civil Service Police Exam prior to completion of the program. Upon graduation from college, six months of further training is required at the Police Academy.

Patchogue Students Help HOPE HOUSE Fire Victims

A fire at a home for troubled youths on Long Island is bringing the St. Joseph's College community together in Patchogue.

Earlier this year, there was a fire at Hope House Ministries in Port Jefferson. The director of the Ministries is Father Francis Pizzarelli, an English teacher at SJC in Patchogue. The fire brought back painful memories for one of Father Pizzarelli's students, a freshman whose own home was destroyed by a fire last year.

"I can't describe the feeling of losing everything," she said. But those feelings were eased by the outpouring of support her family received from the community.

"The teachers and students took up a collection and donated the money to my family. I remember when they presented me with the check, I was so moved. . . I cried. It gave me such a warm feeling that everyone cared enough to do this. I felt like I had to do something in return. Saying thank you didn't seem like enough."

She remembered what happened the day of the fire at Hope House. "We had a paper due. We had to write our autobiography based on an important event that helped shape our lives. I wrote mine based on the fire. I remember going to class that day. I was all excited about handing in the paper, but Father Pizzarelli never showed up in class. When I found out why, I was shocked. I knew exactly what he was going through and I wanted to help."

She started a fund at the College which brought in a variety of donations, including money, food, clothing, household items and sheets.

In March, the Circle K Club hosted a benefit "Hawaiian Luau" for Hope House. Representatives from Cable TV's News 12 Long Island were on hand to help celebrate and report on the exciting happenings at St. Joseph's. The dance raised nearly $1,000.

DUNNE HEADS P.R. COMMITTEE

As SJC stands poised to enter a new era of growth and development, it hopes to expand its outreach to the areas it serves. Under the chairmanship of Richard C. Dunne, Assistant to the President of Eaton Corp. - AIL Division, a Public Relations Advisory Committee was formed recently to help the College enhance its visibility and increase its input into community affairs.

Mr. Dunne recruited a number of outstanding corporate leaders to fill the committee's ranks. They include: William J. Christie of Wm. J. Christie Associates; Thomas Doherty, President, Chairman, CEO of Norstar Bank; Bob Duffy, Exec. V.P., Pacific Ventures, Inc.; Bill Foxen, Foxen & Fredman Advertising; William Gibney, Senior V.P., Norstar Bank; Sharon Grosser, Mgr., Corporate Gifts, Grumman Corp.; Rev. Msgr. Tom Hartman, Dir., TeLIcare; Charles Inniss, A.V.P., BUG; Dom LaPenna, LaPenna Productions; Robert McMillan, Partner, Rivkin, Rudler, Dunne & Bayh; Bob Montana, Pres., Clare Rose, Inc.; Michael Philbin, Pres., TCA Intern'l.; Roger Polletti, The Polletti Group; Jesse Starr; Dick Stahlberger, Viacom Cablevision.

Advisory to the Board of Trustees, the Committee will act as a "think tank" and as a conduit between the College and the business world and other public and private institutions.

According to Mr. Dunne, ". . . St. Joseph's has so much to offer. . . and we want to help get out the message that it is an intellectually exciting place to be. . . if you are a prospective college student - a valuable cultural center. . . if you are a Brooklyn or Long Island resident - and a quality educational environment which produces well-prepared, value-oriented professionals. . . if you are a corporate employer."

The History Dept. at the Patchogue campus recently inducted 12 members of the college community into the Phi Mu Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, the International Honor Society in History. William Thieben, chairman of the History Dept. at Rock Point Junior Senior High School, was the guest speaker at the induction ceremonies. Pictured above are Mr. Theiben, S. STUDENTS PREVIEW CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

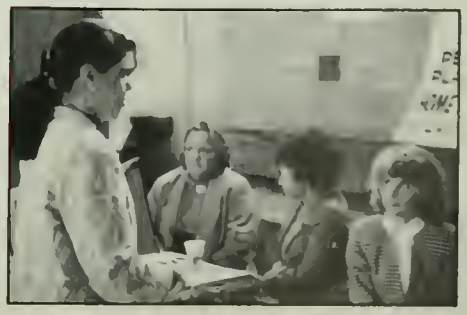
The Admissions and Career Counseling offices in Patchogue have been a whirlwind of activity this semester.

On March 7, the Career Counseling Office, Business Club and Business Department hosted the Job Fair - a day-long event in which local corporate representatives met with current and past students and set up appointments for future job interviews. The day was a huge success, according to Director of Career Counseling Anna Bess Robinson. There were nearly 40 businesses present at the Job Fair.

The Admissions Office hosted its annual Career Night on March 21. Faculty members representing each department spoke about their programs and course offerings while students and alumni discussed how the major fields of study prepared them for specific careers. Director of Admissions Marion Salgado was pleased with the success of the Career Night.



Paula Martinez, a graduate of SJC, discusses job opportunities at Job Fair '88.

Twenty-five Elected to Student WHO'S WHO

Twenty-five students from SJC's two campuses have been named to the 1988 edition of WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES. Students are nominated based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership, extra-curricular activities, and potential for continued success.

Students from the Brooklyn Campus are Christina Ann Apicella, Maureen Daly, Janet Ferrera, John Fitzgerald, Monica Goodwin, Pamela McNeela, and John Snyder.

Students named to the directory from the Patchogue Campus are Ana Christina Barata, Claire Belmote, Christopher Carroll, Sharon Daly-Hudock, Diana Dombroski, Andrea Duggan, Judith Ferrara, Maureen Guglielmo, Marie Kearns, Eileen Killen, Irene McCullough, Beth Partlow-Keating, Jean Marie Piva, Abbe Randell, Lynn Russo, Betty Ann Tomforde, Diane Turner, and Thomas Wendt.

These students join an elite group elected from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and several foreign nations. Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

CULTURE CORNER

The arts are alive and well at both campuses of St.Joe's. The Clare Rose Playhouse in Patchogue has been brimming with excitement during its Spring Season, which began in March with the hit musical "Godspell."

The Pine Cone Players took over the stage with their presentation of "Winnie the Pooh" for Children's Theatre. Busloads of youngsters arrived for their theatre treat. Next came "The West Side Waltz." In addition to the plays, a number of local artists have been displaying their work in the Board Room.

In Brooklyn. . . the Chapel Players scheduled "Most Happy Fella" for April 22, 23, 24. The rousing musical, starring alumnus Joe Reilly '82 and senior Kim Lake, also features popular philosophy professor Stan Nevins.

ALMNA BEQUEST

Margaret Manning, '41, a social science major, bequeathed over $37,000 to SJC. A resident of Pacific Palisades, California, she was an administrator with the Girl Scouts of America and had been active in alumni activities, serving as vice president of the Alumnae Association, 1957-59, and treasurer, 1963-65.

She is survived by her sister, Mary Manning Doherty, '28.

BITS 'N' PIECES

Alumni Phonathon held March 9th, brought out 62 volunteers who made 2,809 calls to alumni. A total of $35,156 was pledged.

The Fashion Club held its Third Annual Fashion Show, "Unique Expressions", on Feb. 27th, at the Brooklyn Campus. It featured sportswear, formal wear, wedding attire, and sleepwear.

Thirteen Students From Suffolk Campus participated in the 33rd Annual Harvard National Model United Nations Conference in Boston, Feb. 19-20. They represented Spain. . . last year, our students represented Papua, New Guinea.

Alumni Night at the Brooklyn Campus brought out 180 alumni. Some took on SJC's Bears in two hotly contested basketball games. . . some cheered. . . all enjoyed a sumptuous buffet and dance after the exercise. Kudos to Sherrie Van Arnam, Dir. of Student Services, and Kerry McConway, Asst. to the V.P. for Development and P.R.

LIBRARY GROUNDBREAKING IN PATCHOGUE

History is in the making at the Patchogue campus as the College is in the midst of constructing a new $3.6 million, 25,000 square-foot library.

The official groundbreaking took place at the College on May 9 with a ceremony that featured guest speaker Suffolk County Executive Patrick Halpin, local political leaders, prominent business people, administration, faculty, students and friends of the College. A delicious buffet luncheon followed.

Construction crews began work late in May. Within days, the workers had demolished the running track and removed the faculty parking lot. By mid-June, the field was leveled and cement trucks pulled onto the campus to begin pouring the foundation.

The library, to be completed by the Fall 1989, will accommodate 120,000 volumes and 300 readers. The present library will be converted to much needed classroom space.

The College has also announced the beginning of its capital campaign, entitled "New Horizons," which will raise the necessary funds for the library and student scholarship needs at both campuses. In Brooklyn, Bishop Francis J. Mugavero hosted a reception for the benefit of the campaign. A number of local dignitaries appeared, including Benjamin Ward, Commissioner of the New York City Police Department and a Trustee of the College.

Top right: Can you recognize this location? Above: U.S. Congressman George Hochbrueckner, Academic Dean Sr. Jean Marie Amore, President Sr. George Aquin O'Connor, Patrick Halpin and Student Government President Christopher Carroll.

The Annual Spring Luncheon was held on April 16, at Antun's Restaurant, Queens Village. Over 400 people attended. Pictured below are former trustee Edgar Debany, Marie Cavagnaro Debany '38, Grace Coscia '38, Sr. George Aquin O'Connor and Bishop Benedito Coscia, brother of Ms. Coscia.

SOCIOLOGY PROFESSOR RUSSIA BOUND

Dr. William Bengston, Chairperson of the Sociology Department in Patchogue, has been invited to join a team of delegates on a history-making trip to Russia, where the group will study Soviet Law enforcement and the Russian criminal justice system.

The invitation comes from Richard H. Ward, Vice Chancellor for Administration and Professor of Criminal Justice at the University of Illinois at Chicago. The team will travel to the Soviet Union under the auspices of the Citizen Ambassador Program of People to People International.

A series of briefings, technical discussions and field visits are being planned to examine the areas of police administration, criminal investigation, police training, corrections, juvenile delinquincy and substance abuse.

Dr. Bengston will be joined by approximately 24 other noted American criminologists. He is thrilled to be a part of the trip, which will become a milestone in relations between the Soviet Union and the United States.

The delegates will tour the Soviet Union from August 28 through September 11, and will stop in Moscow, Pyatigorsk, Odessa, Leningrad and Helinski.

Trustee Chairman Frederick Shea, Brooklyn Valedictorian Janet-Reynolds-Sumner and commencement speaker Thomas Klein.

Student Honors

A number of honors were bestowed upon graduates at both campuses.

In Suffolk: Summa Cum Laude - Claire Belmonte, Diana Dombroski, Judith Ferrara, Beth Partlow-Keating, Susan Melchione and Jennifer Ray. Magna Cum Laude - Jonnie Angrisani, Robin Dittus, Marie Kearns, Betty Ann Tomforde and Melissa Tosto. Cum Laude - M. Sharon Daly-Hudock, Wendy Ednie, Denise Esposito, Cynthia Olsen, Jean Piva, Coleen Reha, Regina Tricarico and Diane Turner.

General Studies - Distinguished Graduates - Johanna Biederman, Patricia Costello, Denie Costigan, Edith DeBello, Kathleen Downs, Carol Ann Lauria, Natalie Morgan, Denise Nassisi, Maureen Neira, Abbe Randell, Mary Roepken, Claudette Taylor and Kathleen Wessels.

In Brooklyn: Summa Cum Laude - Eileen Slavin. Magna Cum Laude - Monica Goodwin and Pamela McNeela. Cum Laude - Michele Main and Patricia Molloy.

General Studies - Distinguished Graduates - Janet Reynolds-Sumner, Noelle Anderson, Charles Brancato, Rosa Brown, Lucille Buddensick, Brenda Caquias, Marvene Edwards, Eleanor Flood, Mary Gonzales, Winsome Greenwood, Margaret Healey, Mary Joy, Johanna Kearney, Ann Michitsch, Harriet Mosely, Sela Pearson, Wanda Rodriquez-Santiago, Julie Seale, Catherine Vembenil and Patricia Verdon.

Undergraduate Officers

The results are in at both campuses and the 1988-89 officers of the Undergraduate Association have been elected.

In Brooklyn, Lisa Kump was elected President. She will be joined on the executive council by Vice President Raymond Evans, Treasurer Sean Jay and Maryellen Daly who will assume the duties of secretary.

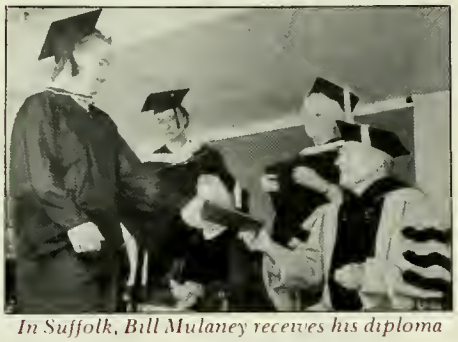
Officers elected in Patchogue were President Mike Pace, Vice President Joe Pelio, Treasurer Nancy Sanders and Secretary Cirstin Connors.

SJC Holds Three Commencement Ceremonies

St. Joseph's kicked off "Commencement Weekend" with the Division of General Studies ceremony in Brooklyn on June 2. Thomas Kline, Plant Manager of Pfizer Inc.'s Brooklyn plant - the guest speaker - received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. Janet Reynolds, Community Health major, was Valedictorian.

On June 3, Sheila N. Pelan, Executive Director of the Angel Guardian Home and a 1953 SJC alumna, addressed the Arts and Sciences graduates and received the Doctor of Humane Letters degree. Reverend Monsignor Charles E. Diviney P.A., Vicar General Emeritus of the Diocese of Brooklyn and Trustee Emeritus of the College, received the Doctor of Humane Letters for his life of distinguished service. Patricia Ann Molloy, Child Study major, was Valedictorian.

Christopher Carroll, Social Science major, delivered the Valedictory address in Patchogue on June 4. Monsignor Thomas J. Hartman, Director of Radio and Television of TeLLcare, the Diocesan TV Center in Uniondale, addressed the graduates and received of the Doctor of Humane Letters degree. General Studies student Jeanmarie Stuenenberg Williams was the Salutatorian.



In Suffolk, Bill Mulaney receives his diploma from Trustee Chairman Frederick Shea.

Msgr. Hartman receives his academic hood from Sister Mary Florence Burns as Mr. Shea watches.

BROOKLYN STUDENTS INTERN THIS SUMMER

While college students are searching for summer jobs, three SJC Brooklyn students will be spending their time attending classes.

Kristine Watkins, biology major, will perform research under faculty advisement at Columbia University School of Dental and Oral Surgery. She will also take a three-credit course there.

Albuquerque, New Mexico is where Joseph Portereiko, a junior chemistry student in the pre-med program, will spend 12 weeks this summer. Mr. Portereiko will be one of 25 interns in pathology at the Lovelace Inhalation Toxicology Research Institute. The program encourages students to enter the field of biomedical and environmental research.

Political science major Raymond Edwards will participate in the 8th Sloan Program in Policy Skills at the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs, University of Texas at Austin. For eight weeks, Mr. Edwards will attend 20 hours of classes a week, studying mathematics, communication skills, public policy and policy development. The program educates participants in the careers that are open in the political science field.

*Patchogue—Students and faculty participate in a game of Pictionary at the First Annual Spring Fling held in April. Teams from each class engaged in a variety of athletic competitions, tests of skill and brain teasers. The Alumni/Faculty team came from behind to place second overall. That evening, Ray Boston hosted his infamous "Summertime * Anytime Beach Party."*

SMOOTH SAILING ABOARD THE S.S. ALUMNI

On June 17, The Suffolk Chapter of the SJC Alumni Association hosted its First Annual "Moonlight Cruise." For four hours, 180 alumni and their guests danced and partied on board the Moonchaser, which sailed around the Great South Bay.

The Moonchaser

That night, it was announced Betty Hill, Class of 1988, will serve as Alumni Coordinator for the Suffolk Chapter, which is currently in the process of reorganization. Plans are underway to make the Suffolk alumni more active within their own and the college community. Betty hopes to work with alumni officers and class agents to schedule a variety of events.

The officers of the Suffolk Chapter are President Iva Sheehan '81, Vice President Veronica Reehil '86, Treasurer Toby Wiles '86, and Secretary Rosanne Henry DiBella '82.

ALUMNI - if you want to be a part of the reorganization, or have any ideas you would like to share with Betty or Iva, feel free to call your Alumni Office at 654-3200 ext. 130.
